AMERICAN CONGRESS ATTACKED

U. S. Delegates to Geneva Threaten War Against Disavowal of Conclave

DELEGATION SHOCKED

Conference Adopts Resolution to Hold World Parley Again in 1935

GENEVA, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The American delegation at the World Jewish conference called to the American Jewish Congress threatening a "fight to the finish" against the American committee for its disavowal of the Geneva organization.

Meanwhile, the plenary convention unanimously adopted a resolution to continue the German boycott for another year, and to hold a world Jewish congress in August, 1935.

The cable, signed by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and other delegation members, said the delegation was "profoundly shocked by the statement of the American Jewish committee, which, coming at this time, is a direct challenge to the forces of Jewish democracy, and bound to strain relations to the breaking point."

"Henceforth," the message said, "there can be for us only one objective in America as elsewhere; namely, the building of a Jewish community through the expression of the popular will, and a fight to the finish against all who oppose it."

The message was considered the first blast in a campaign to induce American Jews to support the world congress. It pointed out the representatives of Jewish people in 26 countries agreed to call the conference.

The boycott resolution against Germany declares the causes resulting in the proclamation of the boycott in 1933 "will subsist in all intensity."

"The conference notes with thanks the particular participation in the boycott movement of such large non-Jewish organizations as the International Trade Union movement, the British Labor party, American Federation of Labor, and in other sections of the population in other countries where the boycott of the Nazis has progressed considerably."

"The conference earnestly appeals to the entire Jewish people of all countries, (also all those others interested in the fight for liberty and justice for all races of religious peoples, to organize for the purpose of carrying through the boycott with all energy."

ADMIRAL BYRD IS REPORTED IMPROVED

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, Aug. 23.—(Via MacKay Radio to UP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd is recovering rapidly from illness which almost prostrated him during his isolation in a hut 123 miles out on the Ross ice barrier, a message from the hut said today.

Byrd is able to take a walk each day. His three rescuers are with him, awaiting his recovery before they return to the base here in his snow tractor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Jack McCarthy and William Bailey, former lieutenants of Vannie Higgins, slain rum runner, were released today by police after surrendering voluntarily for questioning in connection with the $427,950 holdup Tuesday.

Both gave satisfactory alibis for their whereabouts at the time of the robbery.

REORGANIZATION PROBLEMS OF NRA WILL BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE ON FRIDAY

A BOARD ROOSEVELT SPECIAL TRAIN enroute to Washington, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Reorganization problems of the NRA engaged President Roosevelt today as he sped homeward from Carrollton, Ill., where he attended the funeral of Speaker Henry T. Rainey of the House of Representatives.

With less than 48 hours remaining before he departs from Washington for a month in his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., the president took advantage of the quiet of his private car to plan the details of conferences tomorrow and Saturday with Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson, secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and Donald R. Richberg, NRA general counsel.

Mr. Roosevelt was so determined to achieve perfection of the NRA reorganization machinery before he leaves Washington that he worked steadily through the day, even though crowds anxious for a sight of him jammed the train yards at all operating stops.

With him was Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, who also attended the Rainey funeral yesterday afternoon. The two planned to discuss generally the government's program for drought relief.

Roosevelt's industrial advisers are split in disagreement over reorganization of NRA but expect to drive their argument to conclusive decision at White House conferences tomorrow.

General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, is confronted by Donald R. Richberg, head of the president's executive council, and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins in this dispute within the administration high command.

Johnson and Richberg will confer with Mr. Roosevelt tomorrow, probably separately. The dispute in which the two former partners in NRA administration find themselves developed after a week end White House meeting at which Johnson announced he had been invited by the president to remain as industrial recovery chief.

KAUFMAN AND HOWARD FAIL TO REPLY TO QUESTIONNAIRE

Queries Of Brotherhood Are Ignored

All Other Law Enforcement Candidates in County Send in Replies

THE REPORT of the Orange County Church Brotherhood upon candidates for office at the August primary election today disclosed that, among those seeking election to law enforcement offices in Orange County the only candidates who failed to reply to the Brotherhood questions were District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and F. W. Howard, candidate for sheriff.

These were the same two candidates who were endorsed for election by the Merchants and Dispensers Law Compliance Association of Orange County, the organized group of liquor dealers.

All other candidates who are seeking election for district attorney and sheriff answered the questions. The report shows that in replying to the questions regarding the use of liquor, B. Z. McKinney, the only district attorney candidate making answer, and three sheriff candidates, Sheriff Logan Jackson, C. E. Jackson and A. L. Ellis stated they are total abstainers.

Harry D. Riley replied that he uses liquor to a moderate degree. Riley stated that he uses wine and beer. Sam Jernigan, according to the report, apparently misunderstood the questions, for he replied that he is not a total abstainer, and then stated that he uses no liquor.

In his letter accompanying the report to the various church brotherhoods in the county, Lyman F. Scheel, president of the county Brotherhood organization, said: "We soon have an opportunity to select men who will be responsible for our moral and social welfare for the next few years. The position of the churches has been clearly stated in their recent conventions. The attached questionnaires reflect that attitude of the individual."

James L. Davis, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, who also was endorsed by the liquor dealers, submitted a reply and then withdrew it, the report stated. John King and Alphonse Ganahl, Democratic candidates, failed to reply. The questions asked congressional candidates did not concern use of liquor, but dealt with legislative and social issues, including the liquor traffic.

Asserting that "no group of employees have benefited during the past year, in both the increase of rate of pay and in the reduction of hours of work as have the cotton textile employees," Sloan challenged all the claims of the United Textile Workers, who voted to declare a general strike here last week.

Sloan said that machine-hour limitations in the cotton code had helped greatly to stabilize the industry by distributing employment.

He was incensed particularly at Sloan's contention that mill workers have fared well the last year under the NRA code.

NOT JUSTIFIED
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The threatened general textile strike is not justified in view of a 79 per cent hourly wage increase in the past year, according to George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute.

TEXTILE UNION LEADERS PLAN FOR WALK OUT

Strike Workers Ordered to Tactical Centers Over Entire Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Cotton Textile union leaders today advanced their nation-wide plans for a general strike before Sept. 1.

They dispatched strike workers to tactical centers throughout the country so that should the strike be called their campaign would be uniform.

The special strike committee headed by Francis J. Gorman, first vice-president of the United Textile Workers, was still hopeful that President Roosevelt or "someone else in the government with real authority" might be able to avert the walkout, which would be the biggest under the new deal.

Ready To Strike

Gorman said, however, that until the government took definite action or the industry met the demands of workers his committee stood ready to order the strike.

"The committee does not expect the industry to move voluntarily toward a betterment of conditions because the industry has been moving steadily in the other direction ever since the cotton textile code was approved by the president," Gorman said.

He discussed his fruitless conferences with various division and boards of the NRA and said that he was through conferring.

Upon reading the defense of the textile industry made by George A. Sloan, retiring president of the Cotton Textile Institute, Gorman said it was "a collection of poetic generalities which doesn't mean anything."

He was incensed particularly at Sloan's contention that mill workers have fared well the last year under the NRA code.

Liquor Stores Can Operate Election Day, Webb Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Although "public houses, saloons and public drinking places" may not operate, and restaurants must refrain from sale of intoxicating beverages, retail liquor stores will not be required to close on election day, Attorney General U. S. Webb ruled today.

Section 83B of the state penal code, pre-legal liquor control statute, does not mention off-sale liquor stores among those establishments which must close during the hours the polls are open, Webb said in an opinion requested by District Attorney Hiram W. Baker of Shasta county.

Long also approached Ferdinand Pecora, who conducted the senate investigation of Wall Street, and was turned down just as coldly, it was said.

While the Kingfish's political machine planned to take over this metropolis Sept. 7 to rule it like a conquered province, Rep. J. V. Sanders, Jr., appealed for the intervention of the national house of representatives. He asked that a congressional committee be sent into "Hitlerized Louisiana" to watch the Sept. 11 congressional primary.

Intent upon discrediting the old regulars Democratic machine which has controlled local government for years, by exposing open vice and gambling always existing in this liberal city, Long was said to seek the dignity of a name representing unquestionable integrity.

The investigation, authorized by the recent special session of the legislature, which Long thoroughly dominates, has been repeatedly termed a method of districting attention from a planned coup of the Long machine at the congressional primary. St. Bernard and Jefferson parishes, adjoining New Orleans, have been as "wide open" as the metropolis itself, but are governed by Long henchmen and will not be investigated.

Only one member of the committee of nine has been appointed. The delay in getting the committee at work was understood to be caused by Long's inability to find counsel of high standing and well known enough to lend dignity and seriousness of purpose.

Frank X. Fay, chief of federal operations here, went to Hewlett, on Long Island, in connection with the arrest.

Fay, reported at his home, Fox Hall, at Woodmere, south of Hewlett, was not available for comment.

Fay later was reported not at home, but expected to return "some time tomorrow."

Mrs. Fay was said to be in New York shopping.

Fay has two daughters, both married. The elder, Mona Fay Riskin, has a young son by a previous marriage. The other daughter is Mrs. Belle Schwartz.

It was pointed out that the extortion note might have been directed against Fay's grandson.

Extortion and Kidnaping Scheme is Revealed in Suspect's Arrest

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—A $50,000 extortion plot against William Fox, motion picture executive, was revealed by the United States attorney's office in Brooklyn today with the arrest of a suspect at Hewlett, N. Y.

Name of the suspect, taken into custody by department of justice operatives, is unknown, the federal attorney's office said.

First information was that the prisoner had demanded $50,000 from Fox under threat of kidnaping the former film executive's children.

The New York office of the department of justice, admitting the arrest had been made in connection with the extortion attempt, said the suspect's name was known. They refused to divulge it.

SEN. HUEY LONG OFFER REFUSED BY N. Y. LAWYER

Seabury and Decora Decline Invitation to Conduct New Orleans Probe

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20.—(UP)—Sen. Huey P. Long approached Samuel Seabury, famous investigator of the Tammany hall administration of New York City, to conduct a similar investigation of the New Orleans municipal government, and was rebuffed, it was reported reliably today.

Long also approached Ferdinand Pecora, who conducted the senate investigation of Wall Street, and was turned down just as coldly, it was said.

STANDARD OF DOLLAR DEFENDED

NO CONTENT CHANGE
Confirm Reports Lloyds is Insuring Speculators Against Confiscation

(By The United Press)
THE WORLD'S money markets were disturbed today by wild rumors and speculation caused by recent fluctuations in foreign exchange and the movement in gold prices.

In Washington, the treasury department was ready, for a second time within a few weeks, to permit the exportation of gold to defend the dollar on its present standard of 15 5-21 grains. It recently allowed a shipment of $1,000,000 in bullion to leave the country—a gesture designed to show the world its intention of supporting the dollar.

In London, a jump in the gold price to 138 shillings 7 1/2 pence placed it at the highest price since Feb. 6; brought rumors that the price would go still higher.

Yesterday's gyrations of foreign currencies, wherein the pound sterling went down in terms of the franc, while the dollar sank sharply in terms of the franc and was fairly strong in terms of the pound, led to further rumors that England had withdrawn, temporarily, her support of the pound, and that a return to a gold bullion basis was contemplated.

In Paris, the franc today stood at 149.3 to the dollar (6.55 cents a franc) at which it would be profitable to import gold from the United States. Observers believed the weakened dollar was the result of rumors of a further devaluation of the United States dollar—rumors which were denied in Washington.

Reports Lloyds of London were insuring speculators against a confiscation of gold, or the return of the gold standard with a devalued pound, were confirmed—but the insurance rate was only one-tenth of one per cent, and Lloyds were therefore "betting" 1000 to 1 against any such eventuality.

REVOLT LEADERS IN CUBA GET SENTENCE

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Col. Fulgencio Batista, chief of staff of the Cuban army, today approved death sentences passed by court martial on Maj. Angel Hechevarria and Capt. Augustin Erice, convicted of plotting the military overthrow of the government.

Only intervention of President Carlos Mendieta, to whom the case went after Batista's approval, could save the former army officers, both of whom were high in the councils of Camp Columbia.

Hechevarria was commander of the third battalion, at Cuba's main military center. Erice was head of the signal corps.

Two hundred fresh men were sent to the area and forest officials expected to check the fire before it caused extensive damage. With nearly 7000 acres already burned, efforts of fire fighters were being concentrated on extinguishing small blazes and smoldering heaps when flames suddenly swirled into a heavy stand of timber and began advancing again. The fire was expected to spread to the river before it could be checked.

A WORD OF COMFORT

You were not born to luxuriate forever amid quiet pastures nor are you fitted for such an unceasing activity, unending struggle and unchanging warfare as to preclude periods of refreshment and rest.
You were created to accomplish mighty tasks but you were made dependent upon periods of withdrawal in which to drink in new power.
Fight today's battle like a man. Then seek from God fresh courage and go out to fight again.

PRIZE PLAQUE ON DISPLAY IN BANK WINDOW

Elaborate arrangements for staging the big world premiere and preview of "Peck's Bad Boy" at the Broadway theater for four days starting Sunday were nearing completion today as wide interest was aroused among boys under 16 years of age in the county in the Register-Broadway essay contest which closes Saturday noon.

The essay contest will give boys in Orange county an opportunity to win the handsome plaque which Jackie Cooper won in the picture for an essay on the subject "My Father." The plaque arrived in Santa Ana and is waiting to be given to the boy who writes the best essay on his father, using 250 words or less. It is on display in the Fourth street windows of the First National bank. Essays must be received at 12 noon Sunday to be entered.

The plaque is to be awarded with special ceremonies at the matinee Monday afternoon. All Boy Scouts in the county have been invited to be present to witness the ceremony.

For the first time in the history of the county, a world premiere and preview will be held, arrangements for the event having been made by J. F. Burke, and Manager Lester J. Fountain of the Broadway theater through the producer, Sol Lesser. It will be a colorful and gala occasion. Hollywood stars, directors and executives, newspaper men and critics, magazine writers, socialites and authors will flock here Sunday for the first showing and some celebrities are expected to be present for every showing.

Fountain announced that the box office at the Broadway will open at 10:30 a. m. Sunday so those that attend will not have to stand in line so long. The celebrities who attend, he said, will not come at one special time, but will drop in and out all day Sunday. Doors will open at 12:30 p. m. and the big show will start at 1 p. m.

"Peck's Bad Boy," many scenes of which were taken in Santa Ana, is not, as might be inferred from the title, a screened account of the doing (mostly misdoings) of Peck's "bad boy," but an adaptation of the spirit of the old stories, brought up to date.

NEW DIRECTOR

Terrence H. Halloran, below, is the newly appointed director of the Orange county SERA program. He will assume his new duties as head of the relief program in the county on September 1. Halloran comes to Orange county from Santa Barbara.

Terrence H. Halloran, newly appointed director of SERA activities in Orange county, will come here to take charge of that important position with a wide experience in social welfare and community organization activities as a background, it was learned today.

For the past five years he has been associated with social agencies in Santa Barbara county in the capacity of director of boy guidance at the East Side Social Center. He previously was connected with welfare and relief agencies in Louisville, Kentucky.

Halloran is a native of Bismarck, North Dakota, and completed his high school education in that city. He attended Providence, Rhode Island college and was graduated from St. Mary's college at Oakland.

He completed his formal social work training in sociology and welfare administration at the University of Notre Dame, being graduated from a two year post graduate course at that institution.

During his work in Santa Barbara, Halloran was closely associated with R. C. Branson, former state SERA administrator, and Alota Brownlee, SERA official.

RETRACTION OF CHARGES ABOUT WILKIE ISSUED

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 23.—Issuing a complete retraction and public apology in connection with alleged defamatory and baseless charges said to have been spread, "published" and distributed by him against Captain Don Wilkie, non-political candidate for the office of sheriff of Orange county, Steven W. McCulloch of Placentia, yesterday admitted his error in circulating a document which, it is alleged, was calculated to injure the sheriff candidate in the eyes of the voters at the last minute of the campaign, without allowing him an opportunity to refute the charges before the primary, charges that he contends cast serious reflections on his character and integrity.

"This retraction privilege was extended to Mr. McCulloch by eminent and capable attorneys of Anaheim, retained by me some time ago in defense of my character against last minute malicious attacks," Captain Wilkie announced. "It was either a case of retract or stand suit," he said. "I am fed up with the careless and irresponsible dissemination of virulently libelous and slanderous attacks on my character. It appears that unscrupulous opponents have overstepped their legal privileges in their desperate attempts to blacken my character once they found my record and qualifications were impregnable. This is not a campaign trick," Captain Wilkie declared. "Had the apology and retraction not been forthcoming my attorneys had instructions to proceed to the full extent of the law."

Adding that immediate legal action was to be his answer to the political plot, Captain Wilkie said that "the retraction of Mr. McCulloch will serve to show the voters of Orange county how desperate are charges" of some of his opponents in the sheriff's race. "It is wise, however, not to spread false rumors, but is far safer to check and re-check libelous and slanderous statements before jeopardizing one's holdings and even one's liberty by becoming liable for criminal libel and slander," Captain Wilkie said. "It was deliberately planned to attack me with a last minute blast, too late for me to answer. I know all about those plans and here is my answer," he said.

Text of McCulloch's signed statement follows: "The undersigned, S. W. McCulloch, hereby states that for a short time recently he had in his possession a written statement signed and sworn to by Edna B. Kenneson of Beverly Hills; that statement made charges against the integrity of Don Wilkie; while it was in my possession I permitted a few persons to see it; I have no desire to injure Don Wilkie, and hereby state that if my showing said statement had caused any untrue rumors or statements to be circulated against Mr. Wilkie, I very much regret that fact. While I do not favor him for sheriff of Orange county, I do not want to be unfair to Mr. Wilkie."

Make Changes in 'Y' Locker Room to Care for Jaycee

Y. M. C. A. members who have left their gymnasium equipment in lockers at the "Y" building for convenient storage are being warned by notice from the Y. M. C. A. office to call and secure their property before September 1. It is necessary to make extensive changes in the locker room arrangement in order to provide for the use to be made of the physical department by the Junior College, and storage space will be at a premium, according to General Secretary Ralph Smedley, so that it will no longer be possible to give space to any material not in active use. Articles not called for before September 1 will be disposed of, he said.

This notice does not apply to members who are making regular use of their lockers, but only to those who have not been taking advantage of the privileges lately. Smedley stated that the usual Y. M. C. A. program of physical education will be carried on, the hours being so arranged that the junior college classes will not seriously interfere with the "Y" classes. However, the entire locker room arrangement will be changed to make space for the additional lockers required, and it will be necessary for all members to relocate their lockers for the season.

SERPENT REPORTED AT LARGE

OAKLEY, Cal., Aug. 23.—(UP)—The San Joaquin river serpent, a strange monster 15 or 20 feet long, is alive and free today, so far as authorities can determine. They found no confirmation of the story that two Filipinos killed or captured the huge snake, popularly believed to be a boa constrictor which escaped from a circus a decade ago.

Nor could the authorities find the person who started circulation of the capture story.

BIG BREAKERS RECEDING AT BAY DISTRICT

Citizens of Newport-Balboa were digging out today, after the huge breakers of Tuesday and Wednesday, which caused $15,000 damage, according to city officials. Nearly a score of homes on the beach front in West Newport were undermined, a two-story frame apartment house in Balboa shifted several feet on its foundations, the beach front was denuded and stripped down in several places, and the municipal pier at Balboa was undermined to some extent.

High surf again swept the entire coast section, from Laguna Beach to Malibu, last night, although not to as great an extent. Last night breakers were believed receding for the final time. At Hermosa Beach ten persons were rescued by guards after they had gone into the surf despite warnings of vicious rip tides. Barricades were thrown up in Long Beach along sections of Ocean avenue, as the water threatened to flood streets. The municipal pier at Manhattan Beach was reported damaged yesterday by the heavy seas.

Tractors, shovels and wheelbarrows were employed during the day yesterday at Newport Beach to remove sand and debris from before homes and in the streets. Central avenue had been filled in some spots with sand and water to the depth of four feet, and many business places on Main street were filled with water, which left its residue of sand and kelp. The end of Thirty-sixth street was washed out for a distance of 30 feet by the heavy seas, and will be filled in today. Sand bag barricades were placed across B street and on either side of the Balboa pier to stop the onrush of water, which continued last night, although not as severely. In West Newport homes are being raised preparatory to replacing washed out foundations. Here the ground swells have been cutting at the house fronts for several days. Damage to the breakwater and jetties at the harbor entrance has not been estimated as yet, although it is believed slight. City Engineer R. L. Patterson made a preliminary survey of the situation yesterday afternoon.

Hundreds of sightseers flocked to the beach last night and lined the ocean front for two hours before high tide, as the huge breakers continued to crash against beach and barricades. The water, which reached its highest point at seven o'clock, did little damage last night, however, and did not reach the streets in any quantity.

POLITICAL ACTIVITY IS BANNED BY U. S. CIVIL SERVICE

Following its practice in election years, the Civil Service Commission has placed a copy of a government circular in each federal establishment in the country warning against political activity of classified employees, a practice which is prohibited by law.

Political activity by classified employees in city, county, state or national elections, whether primary or regular, or in behalf of any party or candidate, or any measure to be voted upon, is generally prohibited. Officers are prohibited from requesting or requiring any political service or any political work from subordinates.

Persons who by provisions of the rules are in the competitive classified service, while retaining the right to vote as they please and to express privately their opinions on all political subjects, can take no active part in political management or in political campaigns.

The restrictions as to political activity apply to temporary employees, employees on leave of absence with or without pay, substitutes and classified and unclassified laborers.

Every advocate of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan should vote for Russell Cartwright Stroup as their Democratic Candidate. Every member of the Utopian Society should be for Russell Stroup. Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers and may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Santa Ana Register:
On behalf of the Santa Ana Twenty Third Club, I wish to thank you for the support and cooperation given us by your paper in our recent attempt to put over our ball game with the Negro team from Iowa. The publicity given the game by Eddie West has been greatly appreciated, and, his efforts in helping us choose a team to represent Santa Ana in the Los Angeles Examiner tournament next month are being gratefully received.

Thanking you again for your support, I remain,
Yours,
TERRY STEPHENSON JR.
Secretary.

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 20, 1934.
Dear Mr. Editor: If you would allow space in your Public Forum columns of the Santa Ana Register for a statement concerning my candidate's attitude toward the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan, I refer to John E. King of Hemet, California. As is generally known, he is seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress from the California 15th Congressional district composed of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

So that my readers may know that there is no camouflage in my candidate's attitude toward the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan I am here quoting from a letter written to me personally on July 21, 1934, by Mr. King. Extracts from the letter follow:

"Mr. Robb, you tell me there is some apprehension as to my attitude on old age pension. I think you will recall that in practically every address I have made during the primary campaign I have stressed the importance of provision for old age pensions by the next Congress.

"To me the most important item in President Roosevelt's program for the coming session of Congress is the proposal for old age pension. A century-long dream seems certain of fulfillment and the fearsome specter that has haunted mankind will be laid. No longer need there be fear of poverty and destitution in old age."

"I am in hearty accord with the principle of old age pensions, and have declared, if elected, will favor any bill introduced that is demonstrated to be practicable and economically sound. I am for the Townsend Pension Plan."

Those words my dear readers are the words of John E. King, candidate on the Democratic ticket for Congress from our 15th district. It seems to me that they convey very emphatically the broad sympathy and understanding which Mr. King has for the problems of the old and growing old folks. A vote for John E. King by you elderly people will practically do it seems to me that they convey very emphatically the broad sympathy and understanding which Mr. King has for the problems of the old and growing old folks. A vote for John E. King by you elderly people will practically do it.

Mr. Burke, your statements made in Birch park last Wednesday evening relative to the Old

LONG BEACH TO SAVE $700,000

LONG BEACH, Aug. 23. — A policy of rigid economy which will save Long Beach taxpayers several hundred thousands dollars per year has been adopted by the new city council, elected to succeed the former council which was recalled several weeks ago.

One of the first acts of the new councilmen was to instruct City Manager Bonner to cut the proposed budget $700,000 without slashing salaries of city employees, and to vote to eliminate the $50 per month automobile allowance which had been collected by previous members of the council.

Before the reduction, Bonner's budget provided for expenditures of $6,020,000. Carl Fletcher was chosen as the new mayor, and he pledged the council to confine its work to legislative action and turn over all administrative duties to the city manager's office.

Age Townsend Pension plan were very pleasing to all of us who have been laboring to promote the Townsend Plan. Once again you show yourself to be favoring such movements and have for their goal a greater economic and social justice for all.

As the one in charge of John E. King's headquarters office, here in Santa Ana, I know that it will be deeply appreciated by all of his friends, who are supporting him for congress, if you will allow these statements space in your Public Forum columns.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER R. ROBB.

ASSEMBLYMAN CITES RECORD IN CLUB TALK

At a meeting last night of the Utt for Assembly club, the following address was made by the candidate:

"Believing that the Republicans of this district are entitled to a frank statement of position by the candidate who is seeking the Republican nomination for the office of assemblyman from the 74th district, I desire, therefore, to submit to my constituents the following brief upon which I shall base my campaign for re-election in November:

"A review of my record in Sacramento will reveal that I have conducted myself in complete accord with the pledges which carried me into the office to which I now seek to return.

"I supported every economy measure which I thought would not impair the essential elements of our government and its efficient application to the needs of our people, and as a result, the controllable budget for this biennium was reduced 20 per cent. I supported the measure which passed to the state our county school matching requirement which relieved local real estate of the 70-cent school rate.

"I voted against reducing the appropriation for the aid of the needy and aged, the blind and the orphans, as was suggested in the governor's budget message.

"I supported the sales tax measure without exemption to class, interest or municipal corporations, as an equitable distribution of a tax burden to meet additional school costs assumed by the state.

"I assisted in obtaining tax delinquency relief, repeal of Matton acts, ease in terminating joint tenancy, and many other acts of direct and indirect benefit to this district.

"If I am re-elected to this office again I shall pursue the same even course of constructive legislation, giving full thought, sincere consideration and energetic action to the needs of this district and those of our state. I will not subscribe to personal political advancement by means of financial promises, which my experience and knowledge of state affairs lead me to know to be impossible of fulfillment. But I can, and do, pledge myself to fight for the preservation of the integrity of our state, that it may give a full measure of service to its people from whom it derives its power and its authority.

"Further, I will constructively seek methods of relief to those in distress, but I will strive to preserve the independence of the individual, that a permanent class of state dependents may not spring up.

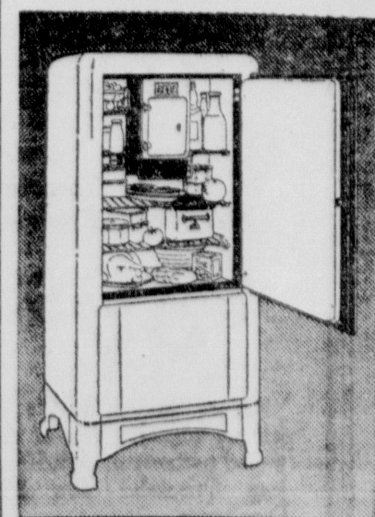

"The confidence shown by the people of this district in not opposing my nomination, is a source of gratification to me, and that confidence and that trust shall not be by me violated."

A portable Singer sewing machine, valued at $80, was stolen Tuesday night from the car of G. W. Shoupe, 543 South Resh street, Anaheim, while it was parked in front of the Singer office at 305 1/2 West Fourth street, he reported to police yesterday.

Clyde Hopewell, 1006 1/2 West Fourth street, had his automobile stolen last night from near the Municipal bowl, according to police files.

CREEL CREED FOR THE ECONOMIC RECOVERY OF CALIFORNIA

The political platform of George Creel, the New Deal Candidate for Governor. Help nominate him next Tuesday.

This program is epitomized in the Four R's of President Roosevelt. George Creel has taken the thought of the President and has adapted it to the needs of California.

This is the tangible, definite Democratic program of George Creel upon which he bases his plea for your support at the Democratic Primaries. It is a simple, practical workable program, fully in accord with the Roosevelt Recovery Program—a program which when tried out, will make an actuality of the four R's—Relief, Recovery, Reform and Reconstruction.

1. RELIEF...
  1. Establish Self-help Cooperatives.
  - "Self-maintenance for every unemployed man."
  2. Revive California's mining industry.
  - "Work for 60,000 unemployed."
  3. Subsidize homesteads.
  - "A new start in life."
2. RECOVERY...
  1. Stimulate business and industry so that unemployed may be reabsorbed; thru—
    - a. State Recovery Act.
    - b. Shorter work day; shorter work week; no reduction of wages.
    - c. State-wide public works program.
    - d. Development of State mineral resources.
    - e. Restraint on big business so that independent merchants may remain in business.
3. REFORM...
  1. Pare state expenses at least 25 pct.
  - "Merge commissions; eliminate deadwood."
  2. Constitutional reform.
  - "Our State constitution a hodge-podge of conflicting expensive regulations."
  3. Revision of tax system.
  - "Lighten burden of those least able to pay."
4. RECONSTRUCTION...
  1. A new Social Order guaranteeing equal rights to all and the absolute elimination of special privilege.
  2. Achieved thru these steps—
    - a. Old Age Pensions.
    - b. Widows' Pensions.
    - c. Unemployed Insurance.
    - d. State Housing Act.
    - e. State Finance Corporation Act.

1. Under no circumstances will the taxes on LAND be increased. Homeowners and farmers now bear more than their full share of the tax load.
2. Sales taxes should be modified so that the burden on the necessities of life will be lightened and that upon the luxuries increased.
3. Those who are best able to bear the burden of taxation through receipt of large incomes must be called upon to bear their full proportionate share of government expense.
4. Owners of personal property, particularly of securities, do not bear their full proportionate share of the tax load. This form of wealth, particularly where wealth is idle, must be reached by increasing the present inadequate rates and by a resolute enforcement of the tax laws.

RILEY ASSERTS HE'S REALLY IN RACE TO WIN

Declaring that he is not in the race for sheriff as a foil for some other candidate and to split the vote so that someone else can get the nomination, Harry D. Riley, candidate for sheriff, told his radio audience over KREB last night that he is in the race for himself and no one else.

"I came into this contest because I believed that I have something to offer Orange county that would be good for it," the candidate said. "I injected myself into a contest with six other men because I believed the sheriff's office needs an executive at its head."

The speaker said his campaign has not been against his opponents, and that he finds it a pleasure not to have to defend a questioned record of incumbency or to try to establish a claim to experience in criminal matters, as others feel inclined to do.

He traced his record as an automobile dealer for 25 years, 16 of them in this county. He said he helped organize and for six years lead the Orange County Crippled Children's Relief association. He organized the Anaheim and Fullerton Rotary clubs and for five and a half years was president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce. Three years ago he directed the Santa Ana Community Chest.

If he failed to establish loyalty among deputies, he would replace them, he said, with men who would give honest enforcement of laws. He pledged himself to administer the sheriff's office efficiently and economically. He said he would attempt to unify the efforts of 154 persons employed in keeping the peace and to promote harmony among the various law enforcement agencies.

COUNTY C. OF C. TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Regular monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County will be held at the Golden Bear cafe, Huntington Beach, Tuesday at 8:30 o'clock, it was announced today by President Tom B. Talbert. A program is being arranged that should be of unusual interest to delegates. It was announced.

There will be 20,000 different exhibits in the major divisions comprising the combined Los Angeles, Riverside and Orange County Fair, Pomona, Sept. 15 to 30.

CONFIDENCE MEN GET $250,000 FROM ORANGE COUNTY CITIZENS; CONVICTIONS MAKE THEM WARY

By JOHN DUNLAP

Unknown to most citizens of Orange county, confidence and "bunco" men here have secured more than $250,000 in fraudulent schemes and swindles from 1929 to 1933 and are still at work fleecing unsuspecting county investors.

It will never be possible to accurately gauge the activities of the swindlers because human nature is such that a victim dislikes to let the world know he has been duped, according to Sheriff Logan Jackson. From the far-flung operations of those that have been apprehended, however, it is certain that thousands of dollars annually go into the pockets of suave and smooth-talking "con" men.

Several of the more notorious swindlers have been arrested by sheriff's officers here during the past few years and a study of their records gives a good indication of the various methods used to steal money and securities. It reveals that middle aged and elderly persons, many of whom have come to California with money to invest, are the logical victims. It gives an inkling of the varied methods used to fleece professional men, ranchers, widows and others from their hard-earned money.

Knowing the average person's desire to secure larger returns on their investments, the swindlers play on this characteristic with great success. But the inevitable sometimes happens. The victim gets suspicious. Authorities are called in. Arrests follow. The suspect is sentenced. Warnings are sent out to investors. That's why this little inquiry into official records may save some unwary person the loss of his or her life's savings.

The schemes used are numerous and varied. Usually the "bunco" obtains a list of stockholders from some dishonest employee of a legitimate brokerage house for a certain consideration. In some instances, the list contains names and numbers of shares of stock held by the individuals on record at that house. The bunco man then approaches the holder of securities and endeavors to separate him from valuable securities in exchange for inferior and sometimes valueless stocks.

A variation of this method concerns the "converter" who approaches the stock holder and persuades him to trade auto or other good stock for an inferior stock which, according to the converter, could be disposed of quicker and at a greater profit. The victim, like the average man trying to increase his wealth, falls for the trade and receives oil stock for his valuable stock. The converter then passes on this information to a confederate known as the 100 per center, a confidence man who takes all and gives nothing in return. He telephones the victim and repre-

Favorite Scheme

The old gag of the bill fold is still worked successfully. The bunco learns the history of the victim and then manipulates so the unsuspecting victim finds a bill fold containing several hundred dollars and valuable papers. Usually honest, he returns the billfold to the "stockbroker" who insists on a reward and finally invests the billfold money in stocks for the finder. This stock immediately soars to new heights and shows a marginal profit in most instances of $20,000 to $40,000. During the manipulation of the investment, the bunco man never permits his victim to get away from him and sticks closer than the proverbial leech. He wines and dines him and provides plenty of entertainment.

After a few days, it is suggested the stock be sold to reap a harvest before a slump sets in. The finder then is urged to show his good faith to prove he could have paid his losses as well as his winnings, by producing from $10,000 to $20,000 to satisfy the brokerage house through which the alleged purchase had been made.

A "bonded messenger" completes the deal by taking the money of the finder supposedly to the brokerage house. However, he decamps with the money and splits with the "stockbroker."

These are but a few of the clever rackets used to hoodwink honest citizens. It should serve to warn investors to act cautiously, investigate their investments very thoroughly, seek the advice of bankers with their years of financial experience, and safeguard their funds and securities until every vestige of doubt has been removed.

Perhaps the greatest lesson to be learned is to trust the officers and seek their aid. The activities of racketeers and bunco men are usually known and arrests may be possible through the assistance of citizens. The blocking of the criminals is a protection to society and the present administration of the sheriff's office has brought to arrest and conviction of this class of parasites.

SONS, DAUGHTERS PICNIC POSTPONED

The annual picnic of the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, scheduled for tomorrow in Irvine Park, has been postponed indefinitely, it was learned today.

Roy M. Pollock, commander of the Sons organization and Mrs. Addie Gardner, president of the women's group, are both absent from the city, and it was felt advisable to hold the event at a later date, it was stated by officials of the affair.

NINE MONTHS OLD BURGLARY SOLVED

Two Garden Grove boys, aged 14 and 17, broke into the home of Ernest Littlejohn of Garden Grove last Armistice Day and stole the money from two children's banks.

After considerable investigation and work, Deputy Sheriff Walter Dungan of the farm theft detail arrested the boys yesterday and brought them to Santa Ana, one to the county jail and the youngest to the juvenile detention home, charged with investigation of burglary.

The youths admitted the burglary and said they had taken the money to Long Beach and spent it on amusements, Dungan said. Although the boys insisted that there was only $8 or $9 in the banks, Littlejohn estimated there was nearly $20, according to Dungan.

By HARRY GRAYSON

Edward Riley Bradley is ready to strike again—a pair of high-class 2-year-olds, Balladier and Boxhorn.

Balladier, son of Black Toney, uncovered fine form in annexing the United States Hotel Stakes. He might well go on.

Boxhorn is the only son Blue Larkspur has in the races this year. Boxhorn is a great-grandson of Black Toney, going back in tail male through Blue Larkspur, Black Servant to that renowned progenitor. He was a brilliant winner of the Saratoga Special, a sweepstakes in which the entire purse goes to the colt in the van at the wire.

Bradley's chance of winning the Kentucky Derby and having a highly successful season in 1935 are exceptionally good if one could judge from the 2-year-old form of Behave Yourself, Burgoon King, and Brokers' Tip, each of which copied the coconuts for the great gambler at Churchill Downs.

And yet, if one remembers what happened to Blue Larkspur, Captain Hal, and some more of Bradley's better bangtails in the big number at Louisville, the odds have to be scaled down a bit.

Black Toney Tops

However, present indications are that Bradley will not have to reveal his uncanny knack of saddling the unpredictable and riding it home in front to enjoy a robust run next year. Having gotten off on the right foot, Balladier and Boxhorn have only to show natural development to gather in the sheaves.

Bradley's Idle Hour Farm, in the blue grass country, is one of the most complete nurseries and breeding establishments in the world, but its master does not have the call upon the varied equine blood which the Whitneys can muster.

Bradley hit it lucky to begin with, by obtaining the services of the Peter Pan product, Black Toney. Most breeders spend years trying to find a serviceable stallion.

Black Toney's offspring has earned the Kentucky cologne from Chicago, Lexington and Palm Beach more than a million dollars. Blue Larkspur alone accounted for $275,000. And Black Toney has brought close to a half million in stud fees.

THEM AS HAS GITS

Bradley's luck could not be better demonstrated than by the careers of Brokers' Tip and Burgoon King.

Brokers' Tip won just one race, but it was the Kentucky Derby—the one in which the jockeys, Meade and Fisher, the latter aboard the favored Head Play, fought their crazy quilt battle while roaring down the stretch.

Burgoon King failed to stand up in the manner expected of a Derby and Preakness winner. The victory of Behave Yourself in the Derby was another that could not be explained by hard figures.

The eternal question mark of racing has grown larger as the result of Bradley's frequent handling, but, to repeat, with a pair like Balladier and Boxhorn, it now appears that the wily old gentleman will not have to pull bunnies from bonnets to land in the more important money in 1935.

BRITISH CRICKET FANS MOAN

Australia's Victory In 'Ashes' National Calamity

LARWOOD 'PITCHING' MISSED

By HENRY M'LEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Allotted the batsman would back tralla yesterday won the "Ashes," emblematic of world supremacy in cricket, by defeating the English side in the fifth and deciding test at the oval.

The Aussies, as they do not like to be called, won in what baseball fans would term a pitchers' battle, their winning margin being a paltry 562 runs.

Although separated by upwards of 4000 miles of ocean I can hear the moaning at the bar—at the Palester bar, at Tony's bar, at the Cook and Wren, the Crown and Keys, and all the others.

And I can see the London papers, they will be turned over to the disaster. P. G. H. Fender, who looks like Harpo Marx and who, according to the way he signs his stories, is "Surrey's most popular captain since the war," will have something like this to say:

British Albies Expected
"Our batting was terrible, our fielding worse. The pitch was sticky. The wicket was pithy. It was dismal. Sheer dry-rot. The placing of the players was atrocious. Had I been in command the right gully would have been in silly mid on and the silly mid on in long leg."

Jack Hobbs, the Babe Ruth of cricket, who is also one of the trained seals covering the matches, will undoubtedly explain that the wicket was "not only pithy and sticky, but it was tuffy as well, offering the Australian Googlies every advantage, and England sorely needed Harold Larwood and his body-line-theory howling."

It was Larwood, a Nottinghamshire bowler, who became the most discussed man in the British empire when he was not asked to join the English side of the start of the tests months ago. Harold wasn't asked because he insists on bowling the body-line-theory, which is nothing more than a fancy name for dusting 'em off. When a batsman became too familiar with Harold's deliveries Harold would simply wind up and let one fly at the batsman's head.

TRIS SPEAKER SPEAKS

Tristram Speaker picks a winner at this stage of the campaign for the first time in his life. Spoke does a good job while about it, and picks two.

"But I no longer consider naming the Tigers and Giants a prediction," explained Speaker, now in the wholesale liquor business in Cleveland, to which city his Indians brought the west's last American league pennant in 1920. "Clubs with their get up and go that have hovered around the top all season as they have, lead now, and which are to play the important month of September at home, rarely miss."

Speaker had been reading where Tyrus Raymond Cobb, upon his return to Detroit for an exhibition game the other day, had watched a team that carries on the tradition that he established—speed, flaming competitive spirit, determination and doggedness, flashing courage and daring—a club that picked up the lines of battle where the Georgia Peach left them, an outfit molded in his fashion, and patterned after his standards.

FOLLOW THE LEADER

"Only one kind of manager could build a team like that," mused Speaker, "the emotional dynamic type of player manager like Mickey Cochrane."

"That's an advantage both the Tigers and Giants have over the opposition—a remarkable players having big years directing and inspiring them."

"Bill Terry has all of Cochrane's fire in a different way. He long ago learned how to make up his mind, and the Giants have as much faith in him as the Tigers have in Cochrane."

"It is easy to see why a club headed by a Terry or a Cochrane is more alert and has more drive than one managed from the dust-out."

"The feats of their leaders keep the Giants and Tigers on their toes. There is no loafing where the boss does more than his share of the work. There is a tremendous difference in the bench manager's 'Go out there and do it' and 'I used to do it' and the player's 'Come out and do it with me!'"

IN PALM OF HIS HAND

"A player manager has the game in the palm of his hand, particularly when he is a catcher or an infielder. And Rogers Hornsby was right when he said that becoming a manager should improve a player's game, if anything. It handicaps the play of only those who were unfitted for the post in the first place."

"The records of Fred Clarke—you may go back farther than him—Frank Chance, Fiedler Jones, Napoleon Lajoie, Bill Carrigan, a fellow named Speaker, Eddie Collins, 'Bucky' Harris, Hornsby, Terry, Charley Grimm, the Joe Cronin of last year, Frank Frisch, Jimmy Wilson, and some more prove this."

Nine of the current big league managers play, if you include Hornsby, who still can do almost everything better than any man on his payroll. And a few more world series featuring Terrys and Cronins and Cochranes may find the McGraws and Macks outmoded for a reason other than financial.

BILLY DOEG EXTENDED BY BLAIR

Rockey, Williams In Boxing Arena Feature

The Orange County Athletic club offers tonight a double main event, the final pairing two crack lightweights and the first matching a couple of hard-hitting heavyweights.

Jack Rockey, probably the best 135-pounder among Southern California's amateurs, goes into the windup against Morrie Williams, a Jewish youth from Indianapolis who came to Matchmaker "Bud" Rutledge so highly recommended that Rutledge felt no hesitancy in starring him in his initial appearance.

Williams invades the highway sock emporium at the head of a stable of Boyle Heights Athletic club boxers. He will be an even bet against Rockey on the strength of his Indianapolis record and reputation.

The heavyweights, Ray Garrison of Orange and Bill Robinson of Long Beach, figured in a sensational contest last week, Robinson winning by a third round knockout after being down himself. That performance, he thinks he can make even a better showing now that he's had a week under the wing of Trainer "Pop" Andre.

Tony Cruz, Wilmington, and Art Arroya, Westminster lightweight, mingle in the special event. Other bouts:

Louis Fiver, Boyle Heights A. C., vs. Al Ponce, Westminster, 135 pounds;

"Baby Face" Romeriz, Wilmington, vs. Leo Lee, Orange, 135 pounds;

Sammy Wallace, oyle Heights A. C., vs. Paul Brown, Santa Ana, 130 pounds;

Frank Miller, Boyle Heights A. C., vs. Joe Reyes, Westminster, 130 pounds;

Benny Sparza, Wilmington, vs. Al Mack, Bell, 118 pounds;

Harold Olson, Bell, vs. Elmer (Swede) Scanson, Los Angeles A. C., 128 pounds;

Carol Merrick, Orange, vs. Bill Morillo, Westminster, 125 pounds;

Tino Munoz, Placentia, vs. Jack Kanell, Bell, 150 pounds.

The rancorous howls of "Oh, Boy," emitted by Patsy O'Toole, shown above in frenzied action, have been stilled and Detroit baseball fans slowly are regaining their hearing. Patsy, whose howlings at the last world series in Washington, brought a request from President Roosevelt that he be moved far, far away, has been ordered by the Detroit American League management to do his roaring in whispers or stay away from Navin Field.

Back home for a "breathing spell" before he plunges into the task of sharpening Saint wings, Bill Foote, Santa Ana high school's coach, took time out yesterday to set September 1 as the first day of football practice at Poly field.

Foote spent the summer at Minneapolis, where his parents reside and where Foote attended the University of Minnesota as a member of Bernie Bierman's school for coaches. He and Mrs. Foote motored to the coast, checking in late Tuesday. They left in June.

Losing 11 regular and 6 first-string reserves from last year's squad, Foote faces a none too promising situation here. However, six lettermen will be back, along with at least eight players who saw considerable action in the '33 season and many others who registered improvement during spring practice.

Foote's biggest loss will be Art Stanske, all-Coast Prep league fullback, who enrolls as a freshman at Southern California next month. Stanske was the Saint's chief offensive and defensive weapon a year ago, an outstanding player with a mediocre club.

Other missing regulars will be Captain Ford Underwood, guard; Al Halderman, center; Charley Roemer and Roland Williams, tackles; Myron Newton and Dave Webb, ends, and Walter Hendrie, Leroy Levens, Paul Hales and Fred Erdhaus, backs.

Returning regulars include Carl "Butch" Schultz, 180-pound tackle; Dick DeSmet, 170-pound guard; Don Evans, guard; Ray Hamilton, center who may play in the backfield this year; Waldo Smith, quarter, and Byron Noll, fullback.

Foremost among the '33 substitutes who are likely to fill positions are Bill Hawkins. "Whitey" Mann, Ray Clark and Dick White, backs; Erwin Yonel and Roger McCune, ends; Bain Alexander, tackle, and Leonard Ash, guard. Clark was a semi-regular last season until he suffered a broken ankle in the Coquina game.

The Saints plan an intensive schedule, with at least four non-league starts in addition to their five conference games. Orange, Fullerton, Covina and either Santa Barbara or Herbert Hoover H of San Diego will be met.

BANKERS HOPE TO CINCH CITY TITLE TONIGHT

So near and yet so far from its first Santa Ana City league title, the Commercial National bank's baseball team tonight hopes to end its playoff with the Union Oil company at the Municipal Bowl.

Winner of the first two games of a three-out-of-five series, the Bankers need only one more victory to vault to an undisputed championship. Despite three the Oilers must capture the remaining three contests in succession if they salvage anything out of the wreckage.

Thus far, the Commercial Nationals have dominated the series in every way. Roy Stout has outpitched by a decisive margin both Lloyd Lichtenwalter and Hal Eaton of the Oilers. The Bankers have out-hit their adversaries as a team 21 to 6, and their defense has been superior, too. If the Bankers win without a break, however, it will be the first time in many years that any club has accomplished such a feat.

Game-time is 8 o'clock but there will be a 6:45 preliminary event calculated to interest many of the customers. Santa Ana 20-30 Club All-Stars, local representative in the Southern California softball tournament, will have its first workout against a pickup club known as Wayne Garlock's Stars. Gilbert Yorba will be on the crag for Garlock's outfit, with Walt Markel back of the dish.

The 20-30 Stars, managed by Lyle Kelly, will give a squad of almost 20 players a chance. This will be the first of a series of practice contests by which Kelly plans to nominate his lineup for the opening game of the Los Angeles tourney, starting September 6. The Santa Anas travel to San Juan Capistrano Friday night.

Kelly and Wylie Carlyle of the 20-30 club conferred with tournament officials in Los Angeles yesterday, and were informed that Santa Ana's first game would be held at the Fresno Street Playgrounds, located in Belvedere Gardens off Whittier boulevard. If victorious in its first two starts, Santa Ana will go into Wrigley Field for the last three nights of the tourney. The 20-30's have purchased brilliant red jerseys, with the words Santa Ana spelled in three-inch capitals across the front.

Gene Thomas' Irvine Beaniepickers invade Fullerton tonight for the crucial and last game of the Orange County Night league's second half. The two teams are tied as they go into the final clinch. The winner qualifies for a playoff series with the first-half champion, B

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
BY Paul Mallon

MONEY NOISES

The inflation whoopee has started again. It is being encouraged particularly by the fact that every near-insider in Washington and New York has heard that a leading government adviser recently predicted it, off the record, to fifty or more people. He did not say how much or when. The method he chose to spread the word has caused many people to doubt the value of the prediction. When anyone lets so many people in on such a highly speculative secret, it usually is not a very good secret.

The truth seems to be that the administration is trying to sing two different tunes on the money piano at the same time. That is what was done on silver. The nationalization motif had an inflationary undertone, but a thoroughly firm money melody. The inflationary hints are supposed to drive stagnant money out of hoarding before prices go higher. The sound money melody is designed to soothe the ears of government bondholders.

It takes a master political pianist to attempt those two themes at the same time.

METHOD
More interesting than that, however, is the fact that certain money experts have worked out a specific plan whereby the government could undertake a convincing moderate money inflation. They base it on what already has been done with gold and silver.

It is highly desirable in undertaking inflation for the government to seize all gold and silver. Such action keeps these precious metals in the country and yet out of public circulation in competition with paper money. That has been done. Another desirable step is to devalue gold and get a big reserve profit in the Treasury. That has been done.

The next step would be to devalue the silver dollar commensurate with gold, thus accumulating a silver reserve profit in the Treasury.

By thus cutting the content of the silver dollar, the Treasury also could hasten the day on which silver would be established at the promised 25 per cent ratio with gold. It would have to buy very little additional silver to reach the ratio goal. The Treasury would also then have a theoretical silver as well as a gold "profit" against which it could issue $2 to 5 billions of new currency. That would be a limited monetary inflation and a fairly sound one because the new money would be backed by gold and silver, although at a depreciated value.

WORKINGS
It may sound complicated, but it is a relatively simple book-keeping trick. The government merely increases the price of its gold and silver monetary reserves arbitrarily, and uses the profit to issue currency.

How much good it would do is a matter for debate.

The new currency issue probably would be used to pay off the public debt. That would be the logical thing to do. In that case the money would only replace existing bonds in banks and insurance companies now already overloaded with money. However, it might create an inflationary psychology and thus stimulate buying.

PROSPECTS

This is just one of the plans being talked of—in fact, it is the only logical inflationary plan being discussed. There is no reason to believe it will be adopted. Instead, there are very good reasons for believing that the government has made no definite monetary plans for more than thirty days in advance. It seems to be feeling its way along cautiously, with no commitments publicly or privately, judiciously delaying its decision until it sees what the future economic situation will turn out to be.

Nothing could be done about this plan anyway until November 9. The government allowed ninety days for seizure of silver and the ninety-day period will expire then. Also, the congressional elections and the fall financing of the Treasury will then be completed. Mark it down in your hat for a check about November 15.

HYDE PARK
Mr. Roosevelt has a secret administrative use for his home at Hyde Park. His associates know he is not going there merely for a month's vacation.

The inside on that is that, in the White House, he lives like General Johnson in a goldfish bowl. If important people are called in to see him, everyone knows about it immediately.

Hyde Park is a retreat where President Roosevelt can run visitors in and out without anyone being the wiser.

NOTES

Domestic sugar refineries were deeply irked by the Cuban treaty to be made public tomorrow. They worked hard on the inside to limit the treatment given Cuban refineries but were unsuccessful.

Ben Cohen is back from Europe to write the forthcoming social reform legislation. The Presidential committee will submit ideas and he will assemble them into court-proof legislation. He will not take his pen in hand until he finds out how the railroad pension court case is decided.

The best government bond authorities swear it was the western banks which took profits when the market went down recently. However, they are all back in, and the market is in good shape to absorb the September Treasury financing.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

SHRUNK

Informed New Yorkers see plenty of storm clouds ahead for heavy industry despite the government's efforts to help.

They cite the decline of railroad steel purchases as a fair sample of future prospects. Production capacity for steel rails amounts to 4,000,000 tons a year for the four big manufacturers. 1,000,000 tons are estimated as the maximum the railroads will take even under forced draft.

Nearly all roads are well laid with 130-pound rails—including oldings and switches—which are good for five to ten years more. Moreover, railway executives are giving a lot of thought to the probable future growth of air traffic. They see no inducement in the present situation to spend big money for maintenance that may start gathering rust earlier than seems possible at the moment.

So experts say this segment of the steel business will do little for recovery.

GRIEF

The demand for heavy electrical machinery has also dropped almost out of sight—and shows no sign of a comeback. From 1925 to 1929 power houses were put in apple-pie order and the equipment is good for years to come.

Existing plants have 50 per cent more capacity to produce heavy electrical goods than private industry can employ. The government's power development plans are the only life-line in sight for this field.

Financial observers also doubt that the housing program—although it should be helpful in stimulating employment—will be much of a boon to heavy manufacturers. It will hardly reach them at all in its renovation aspects and the only type of new building for which there is any real demand is small houses costing $3000 to $4000, with an acre or so of ground. These won't amount to enough to convert the lean years to fat.

This curtailment of markets foreshadows a highly competitive future for the steel companies. Experts say the modern and efficient plants have a big edge. The older factories with obsolete equipment can anticipate plenty of grief.

LABOR

Wall Street has become extremely unhappy about the Steel Labor Relations Board. Conservatives feel that Judge Stacy and his associates are giving labor all the breaks.

The Board's ruling that employers have no legal interest in employee organizations—in the case of the West Virginia Rail Co.—disturbs them especially. It would enormously improve chances of maintaining the open shop in the steel industry if the companies could demand information as to what employees belonged to which union.

Open shop advocates are also worried about Apollo Steel developments. It's an almost certain bet that the Board will uphold labor's contention that the company must deal only with the union which wins the election instead of with both as the company desires. This case closely parallels that of House Engineering—on which the National Labor Board is due to make a similar decision.

The steel people will use every legal device their lawyers can think of to block the Board's "radicalism." But astute observers predict government agencies will enter a course pretty much to labor's liking for the next few months—the idea being to help the conservative heads of the Federation keep their thrones. They'll be needed as shock-absorbers unless recovery moves faster.

POLITICS

Comptroller Joseph D. McGoldrick's decision to contest the Democratic primaries with official nominee Frank Taylor is a pain in the neck to the regulars. They thought this stage would be a mere formality after trial withdrawal. McGoldrick hasn't a chance to win in the primaries but he can force Tammany and its allies to spend plenty to beat him. That's no help when the boys are trying to meet a deficit already.

Republican backstagers expect that party opposition to McGoldrick—based on Mayor LaGuardia's "ingratitude" in the matter of patronage—will peter out before it gets serious. A veteran Republican campaigner prophesies that McGoldrick will run well ahead of the Republican State ticket in the city and that Republican candidates for other offices would be smart to hitch their wagons to his star.

CHARTER

Governor Lehman and the State legislature pulled a neat one in their final move on city charter revision.

By authorizing a new charter commission of five members—all to be named by Mayor LaGuardia—they got out from under a load of political dynamite. The charter is now eliminated as an issue in this fall's election and neither the Governor nor the legislators can be held accountable for what happens to it hereafter. Even the Mayor has no kick—he got exactly what he asked for.

And beyond that the new arrangement is a bomb under Fusion's doorstep. The Mayor now has full responsibility—which makes him a wonderful target. The Democrats are confident he will get himself more involved than a kitten with a ball of yarn and wind up by wrecking the popularity of his administration. Tammany smacks its lips at the prospect and there are a number of Republicans who wouldn't be exactly heartbroken if things worked out that way.

SIDELIGHTS

Those with commodity market connections are making the best showing. . . . Wall Street looks for some fancy publicity on the Franklin car now that E. L. Announce Recommended Wages For Walnut Harvest

RATES SHOW INCREASE OF 14 PER CENT

Recommendations for picking rates and wages for the coming harvest season in walnuts were announced here today following a meeting of Southern California walnut growers at Los Angeles. Packing house managers and growers from this section discussed the picking rates and wages according to a report made to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg and the walnut department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Prices recommended for walnuts hulled in the field where no tower shaking was done, was 50 cents per sack for seeds and 40 cents per sack for buds; hulled in the field with tower shaking 45 cents per sack and 35 cents per sack; with hulls left on 20 cents per sack whether tower shaken or not. A minimum wage scale of $2.25 per nine-hour day for common labor was recommended. It was agreed that the rates are for average conditions only, and the grower may have to vary the rate to meet the situation in his own orchard.

For the past four years the walnut department of the Farm Bureau has endeavored to establish a uniform picking wage scale throughout Southern California. In view of the fact that many growers are planning to use shaking towers, paying the men on these towers by the day, and that in this event 25 to 35 per cent of the walnuts might thus be shaken from the trees for the benefit of the pickers, some adjustments should be made in such cases, it was said.

The rates recommended are based on standard barley sacks (22 in. x 36 in.) filled to the top for average picking conditions. It was recognized that this rate cannot be followed by every grower. Some have a light crop on small trees, resulting in scattered picking, while others will have a heavy crop, enabling pickers to easily pick a larger number of sacks per day. The rate represents practically a 14 per cent average increase over the rate named last

'Deserted Village' Hums With Life Under New Production Relief Plan

KIWANIANS TO INSPECT HOLLY SUGAR FACTORY

Members and wives of Kiwanis club members will make an inspection trip through the Holly Sugar company factory south of Santa Ana next Wednesday night, W. E. Baker, new member of the club, extended an invitation to the Kiwanians at the regular weekly meeting, yesterday afternoon in James' cafe.

George Cooper, recently of Ontario, was introduced as the new member of the local club. The introduction was made by Dr. Melbourne Mabey, member of the education committee.

Art Cannon, club pianist, was welcomed back to the club after an absence of several weeks, due to illness.

The speaker at the meeting was Dr. C. W. Hoffman, of Los Angeles, who discussed the "dangers from the hideous tentacles of Communism which are reaching into the sacred institutions of America." A subject on which he has spoken at other club meetings in Santa Ana, reports of which previously have been published in The Register.

The speaker, who was scheduled to speak last week but who failed to come then, was introduced by Elmer Steffensen.

The rate for picking up walnuts with hulls on for delivery to a huller was not changed from the previous year. In case picking foremen are hired to be responsible for the harvesting crew, it was recommended that the rate be net to pickers.

Massachusetts Knitting Plant Taken Over, Idle Get Wages and Products

This story, second of the series on "production relief," was written by Joseph H. Dyson, Worcester, Mass., newspaper man, after a visit to the scene of the Millville project and a thorough study of its workings. "Production relief" is a new plan that is sweeping the country and is the most important move in the last two years toward solving the unemployment and relief problems.

BY JOSEPH H. DYSON
(Written for NEA Service)

MILLVILLE, Mass., Aug. 23.—Here in southern Massachusetts, not far from the spot where a certain shot was fired 150 years ago that was "heard 'round the world," production relief, one of the most revolutionary moves in the whole recovery program, is getting a test.

In an abandoned lodge hall, on a floor laid out for basketball, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration is sponsoring one of the pioneers in a chain of "relief factories." It pays the wages of workers and distributes free to welfare aid recipients the finished products.

The town of Millville is just what its name implies, a mill village, and virtually a "deserted village" before Uncle Sam moved in and started the wheels of turning again.

The ERA knitting mill project here has been in actual operation nearly a month. Jobs have been provided for 44 girls and four men, and the place is in every sense a manufacturing plant, making cloth and turning it into finished garments.

The products are athletic shirts for men, and "brother and sister" suits for children. They are being shipped into state headquarters in Boston, and by next month will have reached the 28 commissaries being established by the ERA. There they will be distributed free to relief clients.

NO COMPETITION INVOLVED

The goods are not to come into competition on the regular market at all, says State Administrator Joseph P. Carney. They are to be given to relief recipients who haven't any money to buy such things and aren't getting them from the government.

Here is a town that was as flat as a flounder. It had acres of abandoned factory buildings on which nobody bothered to pay the high tax rate any more. Stores were closed, houses were empty, citizens were moving away.

Once it had 5000 population. Now it has 2000. Even the fire department has been abolished, its place taken by a volunteer force. Street lights do not go on at night. But nobody has any money to go anywhere after dark, anyway, so that doesn't matter.

NEARLY EVERYONE IDLE

Except for a dozen or more who worked at the Famb knitting mill, a few who had jobs out of town, and a few farmers who worked for themselves, nobody was working. CWA came along, and helped for a time. Then 85 per cent of the town's working population was again idle.

Something had to be done. Carney did it. He went to Washington personally and sold his idea to Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator.

He leased the Famb knitting plant. Then a sewing plant was needed where the knit goods could be made up into garments. One was found in Foresters' Hall, which had been taken over by the town, along with 155 other pieces of property, for unpaid taxes.

It was made to order—a long high, well-lighted room for power sewing machines, space for cutting, stock, and shipping rooms. The town agreed to furnish the building and the power. Then the project was approved.

The first group of Millville women and girls who learned to operate power sewing machines, and who are now sewing the garments which they and the rest of Millville's unemployed will wear.

MUSIC TO BE FEATURED AT ARTS FESTIVAL

BY ARVID GILMOUNT

Lovers of music, from pulse quickening quiver to catchy jazz and stirring appeal of lifting symphony airs to beautiful arias of the "bel canto" type of operas and imposing symphonies, have a real feast prepared for them by the musical wizards whose names appear on the elaborate program arranged for the third annual Festival of Arts, to be staged at Laguna Beach on Ocean Avenue between the dates of August 28 and September 3.

Tuneful melodies, taken from the gypsy camps of the wild Carpathian mountains, and selections from well known classical compositions, as well as vocal offerings through the medium of outstanding artists, will be heard in connection with the presentation of the program.

Vasil Carjenica who will conduct both the European dance orchestra and the Yugoslav Tamburica Orchestra, musical organizations connected with Hollywood studios, is himself a famous musician, having been brought up in the musical atmosphere of romantic Bohemia. While in Europe he conducted orchestras at the leading society centers of Vienna, Budapest and Prague. Having been first introduced to motion pictures in the studios of Prague, he came to this country to provide the melodic background for "The Merry Widow," as filmed by Eric von Stroheim, and other productions dealing with society life on the continent.

Other artists on the music program are Miss Verna Arvey, well known concert pianist, Signor Waldemar Banke, opera singer; Mile. Boza Hesseva, lyric soprano, and others. Ensembles include in addition to Carjenica's orchestra, a Bulgarian accordion trio, and a string quartet from the South Coast Symphony orchestra.

Capistrano Teacher Weds at Home Ceremony

Pleasantly established in Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell are receiving congratulations on their marriage, a quiet event which took place Saturday, August 18, in the Buena Park home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson.

Miss Margaret Nelson, daughter of Arni Nelson, prominent resident of Buena Park, and Mrs. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell of Arcadia, were married at four o'clock in the afternoon. It seemed especially appropriate that the ceremony should take place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, since the occasion marked their wedding anniversary.

The Rev. S. F. Hilgenfeldt of Anaheim, a friend of the family, was officiating minister. Arni Nelson gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a turquoise blue crepe ensemble with white accessories, carrying a bouquet of white gardenias and pink rosebuds.

A charming decorative effect had been achieved in the living and dining rooms, where dahlias provided by Mr. and Mrs. George Trapp of Buena Park had been arranged in colorful bouquets. Especially attractive was the basket of dahlias in front of the fireplace, where the ceremony was read.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table centered with peach and yellow pompon dahlias. Wedding cake topped with a ring and two love birds was cut by the bride, Mrs. J. Gillis of Winnipeg, Can., mother of Mrs. Richard Nelson, presided at the silver coffee service. Ice cream roll with a sherbet center in the form of a bell was served.

Bridge Club Members Have Evening Meeting

One of the most pleasant meetings of an informal bridge club was that of Tuesday evening, when Miss Marjorie Berkner and her sister, Mrs. Allan Carstensen entertained in the latter's home, 614 South Parson.

The usual bridge games were enjoyed, with first prize of a carved bon bon box presented to Miss Roselind Schilling, and a comic gift consoling Miss Florence Turner. Members and guests then were directed to the dining room where each found a clever hand made "gooper bird" to correspond to the number on her tally.

With the serving of refreshments came another delightful surprise of small individual cakes, each tied with the name of the person for whom it was intended. These were served with fruit salad in dainty baskets fashioned from oranges.

Present were the Misses Joy McPherson, Alma McClain, Roselind Schilling, Florence Turner, Miriam Samuelson and Mesdames Clyde Higgins and Paul Reynolds, and two guests, the Misses Opha Coulson and Helen Campbell and the hostesses, Mrs. Allan Carstensen and Miss Marjorie Berkner.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL
EAT AND GROW SLIM
Breakfast
Sliced peaches, unsugared
1 shredded wheat biscuit
1/2 cup whole milk and
1 tsp. sugar
1 cup coffee with
1/4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar.
Calory total 295.

This is one season in the year when we may have that most delicious of all salads, Fresh Pear salad. The pears must be well ripened, whole and large. Peel, halve and core the pears, sprinkle with lemon juice and arrange on crisp lettuce. Fill with this mixture:

1 soft cream cheese
2 tbsps. tart mayonnaise
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
Over the filled pear halves pour this dressing:

1/2 cup whipped cream
1 small cream cheese, mashed fine
Salad dressing to mix
Paprika and cayenne, a pinch of each.
Garnish the finished salads with maraschino cherries, or a tiny bit of finely chopped mint.

Macaroni Supreme
2 cups macaroni
1 small can of tuna fish
1 can cream of mushroom soup
3 tbsps. butter
Salt and pepper
Cook the macaroni in salted water until tender, drain and blanch in cold water. Put back into a double boiler with some butter, salt and pepper. Add the soup and make the food boiling hot, then add the flaked fish, draw off the fire and let stand for 15 minutes.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Busy Day Whipped Cream Cake
2 cups sifted pastry flour
1 cup sugar
2 level tbsps. baking powder
1-2 tsp. salt.
Sift these ingredients together three times.
2 egg whites put in cup
Milk to fill the cup.
Mix lightly with a fork and pour into the dry ingredients, starting the beating, either by hand or with an electric beater. As the beating proceeds add
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup soft butter
1 tsp. vanilla.
Beat the batter 5 minutes after everything has been added and bake in 2 layers, 20 minutes, in a 400 degree oven. Put together with sweetened whipped cream after the layers have cooled.

The total of $800-odd calories is somewhat luscious. Cut in 12 sections the servings work out at approximately 320 calories each. Fats, sugar and the ingredients cakes are made from, put them in the high energy class, distinctly taboo for the Pleasingly Plump, poor things!

Here's a clever idea for the service of a main-dish sandwich, which I "lifted" from a cafe whose prices indicate its food is gold-plated.

The sandwich was made from thin slices of cold baked ham, placed on slices of thin whole wheat bread, one slice spread with butter, the other with a thick layer of creamy hot noodles. With this sandwich went an uncooked cucumber relish, rather sweet, and strongly flavored with tumeric. It was worth the price!

SHERIFF TELLS ACTIVITIES IN 20-30 ADDRESS

Outlining the work of the sheriff's office, Sheriff Logan Jackson was the principal speaker at the 20-30 club meeting at the Sunshine brouwer Wednesday night. Jackson pledged his continued support of a program, protesting the 140 million dollar citrus industry. Walter F. Slater presided.

L. L. Lutes told of the county finger printing department and its activities. James Workman, deputy sheriff, was introduced. Plans were made for donkey, baseball games at the city park September 11 and 12, with teams to be selected from the ranks of city officials and the members of the Orange Rotary club.

MRS. MELBA WOOD SHOWER HOSTESS

ORANGE, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Melba Wood entertained at her home, Tuesday, 539 Van Bibber street, with a miscellaneous shower complimenting Miss Genevieve Woodward, of Fullerton, who on September 10 will become the bride of Henry Buhling. The home was attractively decorated with bouquets of pink blossoms for the occasion.

A diversion of the evening was a novel guessing game, with Miss Lena Lois Dawling winning high score and Mrs. Rhoda Woodward being consoled.

At a late hour guests were bidden to find their places at a prettily appointed table, stressing the chosen pink color theme with a centerpiece of pink roses. The nut cups were shaded by miniature pink parasols and over the table was suspended a large and elaborately decorated parasol.

Guests of Mrs. Woodward included Miss Genevieve Woodward, Mrs. George Gordon, Mrs. John Oliver, Mrs. A. O. ## FAIR HISTORY OUTLINED FOR CLUB MEMBERS

ORANGE, Aug. 23.—Orange Lions were told the history of fairs and given facts on the Los Angeles County fair at Pomona when Roy L. Driscoll, of Pomona, publicity director for the event, addressed them Wednesday. Alvin Drumm was program chairman.

In tracing the history of fairs, the speaker said that the first fair of which there was any record was that held for 180 days in the reign of King Ahasuerus, who reigned from India to Ethiopia over 127 provinces and who took this period of time for exhibiting the glories of his kingdom, according to Biblical records in the book of Esther.

"The first fair of more modern days and the one on which American fairs have sprung was that of an exhibit of a pair of Merino sheep in the public square of Pittsfield, Mass., in 1807, by a Colonial farmer," he said. "The sheep attracted so much attention that exhibits of the best stock of the community were arranged and residents of other parts of the country followed the example of citizens of Pittsfield, arrangements being made in every town to provide space in the public squares for the exhibitions."

The tri-counties fair originated in the Pomona Lions club 12 years ago, according to the speaker. At first it was exclusively a Los Angeles county fair, until Riverside county joined this county in the exhibition six years ago and Orange county three years ago.

Driscoll said the exhibits will have a value of $15,000,000, with 30,000 individual exhibits. A walk of 10 miles must be taken to view every exhibit, he said.

In the 12 departments of the fair will be the horse show, with 700 entries from the best stables of America; the woman's department and an unusually fine art exhibit which will include statuary and paintings by eastern as well as well known artists, the speaker stated.

In the agricultural department there is to be one of every kind of fruit and vegetable in the known world, the speaker said, and the mid-way is to be a half-mile long, with the largest number of concessions and shows of any previous fair. The fair opens September 15.

Fertilization by Proxy

Shell Agricultural Ammonia manufactured by the Shell Chemical Company is the most important advancement in the fertilization of orchard and field crops made in many years. Pure liquid ammonia is introduced directly into the irrigation water for the grower without the necessity of his purchasing expensive equipment for the purpose, thereby leaving the grower entirely free of the bother and nuisance of applying other types of concentrated fertilizers.

A FEW OF ITS MOST SALIENT FEATURES ARE:

Highest nitrogen percentage carried by any fertilizer.

No residue left in soil as is the case with ammonia in its various combinations.

Action in soil makes available other plant food elements.

Very rapidly available to agricultural crops.

Uniformly distributed in irrigation water.

Grower has no investment in applicator.

Shell ammonia is delivered in steel cylinders and we meter it directly into the irrigation water for you.

Notify us when you will start the irrigation water and we will apply the number of pounds per acre desired over the period of irrigation.

The Shell Chemical Company has devoted three years of extensive experiments with ammonia on citrus and a variety of field crops, both in the field and laboratory. The field experiments include several hundred acres of citrus in Orange County. It has proved to be the most efficient and effective fertilizer yet developed. Its cost is low and includes delivery and application. Phone or write for further details.

EVANGELIST TELLS HOME'S IMPORTANCE

ORANGE, Aug. 23.—Speaking on the subject, "Homes on the Range," the Rev. Leonard Eller, "cowboy" evangelist, who is conducting a campaign at the Y. M. C. A. building under the auspices of the First Baptist church, stated last night that the home is the most important institution in the world and that every effort should be made to keep its principles and ideals high.

Eller compared the home with Christ as its head and the home without Christ, declaring that in the Christian home where principles of unselfishness and righteousness are taught, better and more useful citizens are produced.

THE TINYMIES
STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

King Rain seemed quite a friendly man. Said he, "Why, lots, whenever I can help people out, I'm glad to. That is my real job, you see."

"I sit away up in the sky and watch things that are passing by. When Nature wants a nice, big drink, she always turns to me."

"I make the pretty flowers grow, and I suppose that you all know. I fill the streams with water when they dry out from the sun."

"I've spent a lot of happy hours just manufacturing fine showers. I always feel much better when a day's good work is done."

Then Dotty said, "Why do you let it thunder? You don't know, I'll bet, how it makes my poor ears ring. And the lightning's also bad."

"When it just rains a little bit, and we all can run out in it, it really is a lot of fun. It makes us all feel glad."

"Ah, don't blame me for thunder, too, nor lightning, either. They are not my fault. Just blame Old Thunder and mean Flasho Lightning, too. They think it's fun to crash and flare and cause disturbance in the air. They do a lot of crazy things that I would never do."

Then King Rain bid the bunch good bye and sailed away up in the sky. "Well, Scouty said, 'let's look around and see what we can see.'"

"We'll have no fun, if we just

GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST HAS SIGNIFICANT FEATURES

The gubernatorial contest in each of the major parties, has been a singular one.

Opening, in the Republican party, with Governor Rolph in command of the political situation, with the very great certainty that ex-governor Young would be the real contender with him, for the nomination, conditions were literally changed by Governor Rolph's death. Immediately Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam, becoming governor, took possession of the political organization of the state, which gave him, overnight, rather a commanding power in the garnering of votes.

While Mr. Merriam has thousands of friends, particularly among the church people, yet his record, upon many forms of legislation relating to power companies and kindred forces, is not such as to make him a strong candidate, but rather a weak one.

Ex-Governor Young, in the estimation of the majority of friends and foes alike, gave to California one of the best business administrations this state ever saw. Mr. Young is honest and capable, sincere, broad in his sympathies and would unquestionably command scores of thousands of wavering votes if he were selected as the nominee of the Republican party.

We believe, further, that of all the candidates who are running for the nomination, Mr. Young is the one for whom there could be the slightest hope of defeating Mr. Merriam in the primaries. Mr. Young has as great claim upon the church and temperance vote as has Mr. Merriam, and, in some respects, in our judgment, to a greater degree.

Those who vote for him can have the satisfaction of knowing that they would have a strong candidate, and be voting for a man who had a chance.

Mr. Haight, is also a candidate on the Republican ticket, and while we believe his qualifications are equal to those of Mr. Young, he will not be the runner-up to Mr. Merriam. A vote cast for him, while helping Mr. Haight's election after the primaries, would not be a factor in placing the strongest possible man on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Haight, as a registered Commonwealth candidate, is bound to be a candidate for election, and if he becomes a formidable figure at all, it will be at that time.

POPULAR WEEKLY DESCRIBES AN OUTSTANDING SPORT

Apocryph of the recent hullabaloo concerning the "threat of communism" in Orange county which is being so ardently thrust before the public by the district attorney and his friends in the closing days of the primary election campaign, in an apparent effort to throw public attention from the real issues and a desperate attempt to secure his return to office, a few paragraphs in the leading editorial of the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post seem quite pertinent. They read:

"It is a fairly common human trait to find entertainment and delectation in being horrified.—Even a wax paper mache dragon is better than none at all; The chamber of horrors need not be too real to have the desired effect.

"Thus it is in the field of social, political and economic activity; people may not exactly enjoy being horrified, but they get a certain thrill, a kind of titillation out of it. We all shudder a bit when a speaker or writer suddenly threatens us with revolution, communism, fascism—

"For one thing, these hundred dollar words never fail to produce an effect; the mere use of them seems at first glance to endow the speaker or writer with wisdom. He is rarely asked to specify; he counts on striking his audience dumb with horrendous words.

"Of course dealing up horrors is a quick and easy way of getting one's name before the public. Under such circumstances there is no need to present a careful and reasoned argument. Such a prophet is not held to the ordinary standards of logic or experience or research. He is not asked for details, or for a closely documented case; it is enough that he horrify.

"The American people like to be horrified a little bit, but underneath they take it not at all seriously."

IMPORTANT CONTEST FOR SUPREME COURT POSITION

An election contest which is of great importance in this state will be decided in the primary election, August 28th. This is the contest for position Number 2 of the Supreme Court which is between Judge Ira Thompson, the incumbent, and George Edward Acret, a prominent Los Angeles attorney. Mr. Acret and Judge Thompson are the only two candidates in the nonpartisan race for this position in the California State Supreme Court.

Mr. Acret has been making an intensive campaign against Judge Thompson and has been calling the attention of the voters to Judge Thompson's despotic conduct while sitting as a Superior Court Judge in Imperial county in 1926, at which time Judge Thompson sentenced Editor Norman H. Parks to five days in jail for criticizing one of Judge Thompson's decisions.

Both the San Francisco News and the Hollywood Citizen, highly reputable newspapers, together with many other reputable newspapers, at the time severely criticized Judge Thompson's conduct under editorial titles of "Unfit to be a Judge" and "Jurisprudence dragged in the Mire." The San Francisco

News in its editorial stated that Judge Thompson's conduct could not be permitted to go unchallenged.

This is the first time that Judge Thompson has been obliged to submit to any election contest since his conduct in Imperial Valley and Mr. Acret, in challenging Judge Thompson's conduct at this time appears to be receiving an extensive support from the people.

Mr. Acret in addition to being a prominent and capable lawyer of long experience is a member of the American Legion and during the World War served fourteen months overseas on flying duty. His name will appear under the Judicial Section of the ballot of all parties.

JUDGE SHAW

Judge Hartley Shaw, of Los Angeles, is one of the candidates for the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Shaw has been one of the judges of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county since September, 1923, and is now serving as Presiding Judge of the Appellate Department of that court. During the year 1933 he was Presiding Judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county. He is sixty years of age and has had long experience in the practice of law in California and in judicial positions in Los Angeles county. He is the son of the late Judge Lucien Shaw who served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and was considered one of the ablest judges who ever occupied a seat on the Supreme bench of this state. Judge Hartley Shaw is recognized as a man of sound judgment and judicial temperament and has a reputation for prodigious industry. We have no hesitancy in commending him for the office of Supreme Court Justice.

Forest Not Park

Not a National Park, as has been stated, but a National Forest, well supplied with recreational facilities, will be the California redwood area to be taken over by the Government. The distinction is one of supervision and policy, but the public will welcome the campsite, home opportunities, fishing and hunting permits as something within the popular idea of a park.

From the Forest Service comes word that the proposed Redwood National Forest will cover 200,000 or more acres and will contain not only virgin timber, but cut-over and grazing lands, recreation areas and the like. It will not be handled as a park but as an economic forest unit. Parts of the forest will be logged under an approved system of selective logging, but will not be skinned clean and broadcast burned as is the common practice today. Grazing areas will be set aside for the use of livestock, experimental forest tracts and demonstration areas will be established, roads and telephone lines built, and an adequate system of fire prevention improvements constructed to guard the valuable forest resources.

Recreation will be an important economic feature of the new Redwood National Forest. Fishing and hunting will be permitted, free public camp grounds established, and lands leased for summer homes, resorts and necessary business enterprises. No timber cutting will be done along main traveled roads or heavily used streams, and virgin forest conditions will be preserved around all highly valuable recreation centers.

Before any purchase is made the State of California must approve the creation of a new National Forest within its boundaries. Such an area would then be protected and administered by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Airship Over Brazil to Map Unknown Regions

An airship for exploration service is now being built at Friedrichshafen, Germany, for the special purpose of mapping southern and central Brazil next year. It is hoped that Hugo Eckener, who has so long and so safely guided the Graf Zeppelin in transatlantic service, will be the pilot.

The expedition contemplates three flights, over the states of Amazonas, of Mato Grosso and over a large tract of hitherto unmapped southern Brazil. The explorers expect to travel more than 16,000 miles, learning much that is new not only about topography but about savage, animal and plant life. Scientists say it is not at all improbable that there may be plants hitherto unclassified, tribes never known and animals believed prehistoric, making a stand in the jungles.

The interior of Brazil is a sizeable region. The unknown territory covers as much ground as the New England states plus New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and perhaps Kentucky and Ohio besides.

Mexico Is Attracting Tourist Caterer

American residents of that part of the United States that once was under the Mexican and Spanish flags, and who value the sentiment and the physical reminders of that historic era, will hope that the tourist invasion of Mexico will not destroy the picturesque characteristics of that country. In any case, it should not be "Americanized," granting that there is ample room for improvement in accommodations, especially in the more primitive regions.

United States hotels and excursion interests are said to be planning a chain of resorts in Mexico, the first venture calling for such hotels in principal cities along the Manzanillo-Mexico City-Acapulco highway.

That such a project is under consideration is indicative of the growing tourist interest in Mexico.

Strong-Minded Woman

Former Empress Zita is bound to be a center of speculation and gossip dealing with a Hapsburg restoration. Three empires were shattered by the World War, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Russia, and in the case of the last two the stronger imperial consort was the woman. Zita's influence on the fortunes of her easy-going husband is not to be compared with the fatal role played by Alexandra of Russia, the neurotic disciple of Rasputin. But Zita made herself felt in the war. Her brother, Prince Sixtus of Parma, was the central figure in the sensational 1917 overtures for separate peace between Vienna and Paris. She remains a tragic and impressive figure.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

WHAT EVERY MAN THINKS

When lovely woman drives in traffic
And with her car plays hide and seek,
Her smile is gentle and serene,
But she has got a wild technique.
She seems to know where she is going,
She has the rules all down by heart,
But there is never any knowing
When she intends to stop or start.

She'll slowly roll along the highway
With half a dozen trucks behind,
Then hurry madly through a byway
If she perchance is so inclined.
In vain the many "slow" stops warn her,
For her red signals blush unseen,
She'll madly speed around a corner
And stop when traffic lights are green.

When roads are muddy, steep or narrow,
Or wind along a rough terrain,
She'll shoot along them like an arrow—
An arrow that has gone insane.
But when they're wide and smooth and level,
And she could safely put on power,

And slows to half a mile an hour.

I never was a woman hater—
One girl is worth a dozen men—
But why cannot she indicate her
Intentions, if but now and then?
Beside the fireside she's delightful—
More so than any man alive—
But on the highway she is frightful;
Why can't the creature learn to drive?

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

CHURCH AND SOCIETY

In commenting on Herr Hitler's attempt politically to regiment the churches of Germany, I have called attention to the fact that no modern people has yet solved the problem of keeping church and state separate without keeping religion and politics separate in the sense of underestimating the contribution a vital religion has to make to the national life.

The de facto union of church and state that often exists alongside a de jure separations of church and state is surely no answer to the problem.

To a degree we dislike to admit, in times of calm, the church tends to go subordinate to the forces dominant in the economic order. The corporate courage of movements that intermittently question the ethics of established economic policies and the individual bravery of scattered prophets who live in scorn of the small safeties of conformity are variant from the rule.

And, to a degree we dislike to admit, in times of crisis, the church tends to go subordinate to the forces dominant in the political order. When war is in the air, for example, and the state barks, the church ordinarily barks and begins lustily to hunt with the pack. When the state drafts its citizens, the church drafts its god, clothes him in khaki and sends him to the front. If the crudity of this sentence smacks of irreverence its irreverence of form but reflects the irreverence of fact it records.

This too facile surrender of the church to the economic order, in times of calm, and to the political order, in times of crisis, is no answer to the problem of religion in the national life.

As I suggested in my comment on Herr Hitler's attempted creation of a national church, it is necessary that the church, if it is to have productive meaning in the life of the nation, maintain freedom of action without aloofness of interest in the conflicts that center in both the economic order and the state.

BAD TEMPER

Little John lay in his crib and sucked his daily ration of zwiback. When all that remained was a few sticky crumbs his mother appeared with a washrag. As her shadow fell across the crib little John stiffened, clutched his breath, and then, with a roar like that of an angry bull, gave vent to his rage. He kicked and fought and howled and his mother battled valiantly to connect him and the washrag.

Now there was no reason for this temper that any mortal mind could conceive. He had been carefully tended, gently handled. He was clean and apparently comfortable. He did not want to be disturbed. He wanted to lie as he was, sticky crumbs and sticky hands and face. He resented being disturbed in his serene contemplation of a pleasant world.

His mother calmly, (apparently calm, for she was aquiver underneath) finished washing his face and hands, wiped them dry, in spite of his struggles, drew down the shades and left him howling. He continued yelling for about fifteen minutes. For the first few his shouts were terrific and continuous. Then they lessened somewhat in force, and he began to space them as his energy drained. Down, down, down, dropped his voice, until at the end of twenty terrible minutes his cries ceased and he fell asleep.

Meanwhile, his mother was having her troubles. Grandma was indignant. "Why don't you go to that child? What do you mean by allowing him to cry like that? He'll hurt himself and then what will you think about yourself? It's cruel, that's what it is. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. I never let you cry like that. If you don't go and pick him up, I will."

That is why mothers grow old before their time. Struggling with the children is hard enough but when one must struggle with the various grownups who concern themselves with those same children, the burden becomes almost too hard to bear.

All children show temper. The well-trained child soon learns that it is useless, a waste of energy that brings him nothing but silence, isolation and weariness.

The ill-trained ones, those who are picked up, coaxed, soothed and petted into good humor, keep on indulging in tantrums until they become behavior problems that only the vexed child specialist can manage.

Do nothing you can help that will rouse a child's temper. Handle him gently and do not provoke him to anger. Don't tease him. But when he gets into a temper because he must follow routine, because he must consider someone beside himself, ignore him as completely as possible.

Silence, complete quiet, is the best response to a temper tantrum. This is not always possible but one can come as close to it as conditions admit. Children learn to control temper when they discover through experience that it brings them nothing but inconvenience.

Jews Of World Vote To Continue German Boycott

AMERICAN CONGRESS ATTACKED

U. S. Delegates to Geneva Threaten War Against Disavowal of Conclave

DELEGATION SHOCKED

Conference Adopts Resolution to Hold World Parley Again in 1935

GENEVA, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The American delegation at the World Jewish conference called to the American Jewish Congress threatening a "fight to the finish" against the American committee for its disavowal of the Geneva organization.

Meanwhile, the plenary convention unanimously adopted a resolution to continue the German boycott for another year, and to hold a world Jewish congress in August, 1935.

The cable, signed by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and other delegation members, said the delegation was "profoundly shocked by the statement of the American Jewish committee, which coming at this time, is a direct challenge to the forces of Jewish democracy, and bound to strain relations to the breaking point."

"Henceforth," the message said, "there can be for us only one objective in America as elsewhere; namely, the building of a Jewish community through the expression of the popular will, and a fight to the finish against all who oppose it."

The message was considered the first blast in a campaign to induce American Jews to support the representatives of Jewish people in 26 countries agreed to call the conference.

The boycott resolution against Germany declares the causes resulting in the proclamation of the boycott in 1933 "still subsist in all intensity."

"The conference notes with thanks the particular participation in the boycott movement of such large non-Jewish organizations as the International Trade Union movement, the British Labor party, American Federation of Labor, and in other sections of the population in other countries where the boycott of the Nazis has progressed considerably."

"The conference earnestly appeals to the entire Jewish people of all countries, also all those others interested in the fight for liberty and justice for all races of religious peoples, to organize for the purpose of carrying through the boycott with all energy."

REORGANIZATION PROBLEMS OF NRA WILL BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE ON FRIDAY

A BOARD ROOSEVELT SPECIAL TRAIN enroute to Washington, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Reorganization problems of the NRA engaged President Roosevelt today as he sped homeward from Carrollton, Ill., where he attended the funeral of Speaker Henry T. Rainey of the House of Representatives.

With less than 48 hours remaining before he departs for Washington for a month in his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., the president took advantage of the quiet of his private car to plan the details of conferences tomorrow and Saturday with Recovery Administration officials. General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, is confronted by Donald R. Richberg, head of the president's executive council, and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins in this dispute within the administration high command.

Johnson and Richberg will confer with Mr. Roosevelt tomorrow, probably separately. The dispute in which the two former partners in NRA administration find themselves developed after a week end White House meeting at which Johnson announced he had been invited by the president to remain as industrial recovery chief.

Mr. Roosevelt was so determined to achieve perfection of the NRA reorganization machinery before he leaves Washington that he worked steadily through the day, even though crowds anxious for a sight of him jammed the train yards at all operating stops.

With him was Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, who also attended the Rainey funeral yesterday afternoon. The two planned to discuss generally the government's program for drought relief.

Roosevelt's industrial advisers are split in disagreement over reorganization of NRA but expect to drive their argument to conclusive decision at White House conferences tomorrow.

KAUFMAN AND HOWARD FAIL TO REPLY TO QUESTIONNAIRE

Queries Of Brotherhood Are Ignored

All Other Law Enforcement Candidates in County Send in Replies

THE REPORT OF the Orange County Church Brotherhood upon candidates for office at the August primary election to-day disclosed that, among those seeking election to law enforcement offices in Orange county the only candidates who failed to reply to the Brotherhood questionnaire were District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and F. W. Howard, candidate for sheriff.

These were the same two candidates who were endorsed for election by the Merchants and Dispensers Law Compliance Association of Orange County, the organized group of liquor dealers.

All other candidates who are seeking election for district attorney and sheriff answered the questions. The report shows that in replying to the questionnaire, B. Z. McKinney, the only district attorney candidate making answer, and three sheriff candidates, Sheriff Logan Jackson, C. E. Jackson and A. L. Ellis stated they are total abstainers.

Harry D. Riley replied that he uses liquor to a moderate degree. Don Wilkie stated that he uses wine and beer. Sam Jernigan, according to the report, apparently misunderstood the questions, for he replied that he is not a total abstainer, and then stated that he uses no liquor.

In his letter accompanying the report to the various church brotherhoods in the county, Lyman F. Scheel, president of the county Brotherhood organization, said: "We soon have an opportunity to select men who will be responsible for our moral and social welfare for the next few years. The position of the churches has been clearly stated in their recent conventions. The attached questionnaires reflect that theme. The answers reflect the attitude of the individual."

James L. Davis, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, who also was endorsed by the liquor dealers, submitted a reply and then withdrew it. The report stated, John King and Alphonse Ganahl, Democratic candidates, failed to reply. The questions asked congressional candidates did not concern use of liquor, but dealt with legislative and social issues, including the liquor traffic. Assemblyman Ted Craig, of the 75th district, and Joe Peterson, candidate for the Democratic nomination to the assembly in the 74th district, failed to make replies, the report said.

In addition to the questions regarding use of liquor, the questions asked county law enforcement candidates and their replies were:

TEXTILE UNION LEADERS PLAN FOR WALK OUT

Strike Workers Ordered to Tactical Centers Over Entire Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Cotton Textile union leaders today advanced their nation-wide plans for a general strike before Sept. 1.

They dispatched strike workers to tactical centers throughout the country so that should the strike be called their campaign would be uniform.

The special strike committee headed by Francis J. Gorman, first vice-president of the United Textile Workers, was still hopeful that President Roosevelt or "someone else in the government with real authority" might be able to avert the walkout, which would be the biggest under the new deal.

Ready To Strike

Gorman said, however, that until the government took definite action or the industry met the demands of workers his committee stood ready to order the strike.

"The committee does not expect the industry to move voluntarily toward a betterment of conditions because the industry has been moving steadily in the other direction ever since the cotton textile code was approved by the president," Gorman said.

He discussed his fruitless conferences with various division and boards of the NRA and said that he was through conferring.

Upon reading the defense of the textile industry made by George A. Sloan, retiring president of the Cotton Textile Institute, Gorman said it was "a collection of poetic generalities which doesn't mean anything."

He was incensed particularly at Sloan's contention that mill workers have fared well the last year under the NRA code.

NOT JUSTIFIED

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The threatened general textile strike is not justified in view of a 70 per cent hourly wage increase in the past year, according to George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute.

Asserting that "no group of employees have benefitted during the past year, in both the increase of rate of pay and in the reduction of hours of work as have the cotton textile employees," Sloan challenged all the claims of the United Textile Workers, who voted to declare a general strike here last week.

Sloan said that machine-hour limitations in the cotton code had helped greatly to stabilize the industry by distributing employment.

CLAIM REUNION OF MARY, DOUG NEARS

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 28.—(UP)—The house of Pickfair seemed closer to reunion today as Mary Pickford, gay and smiling and more like "America's sweetheart" of old, joined Douglas Fairbanks, her estranged husband, in a round of business and social meetings under the benign guidance of Producer Joseph M. Schenck, "arbiter" of the couple's marital difficulties.

The three would not discuss possibilities of a reconciliation. But friends believed the series of long rides through Beverly Hills, the luncheon and dinner engagements together, and joint business conferences were harbingers of a reunion.

When Fairbanks left Europe and the vivacious Lady Ashley, friends believed he was "burning his bridges behind him" and coming home for good, cured of the wanderlust that had lured him from Mary and Pickfair, the couple's estate here.

Liquor Stores Can Operate Election Day, Webb Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Although "public houses, saloons and public drinking places" may not operate, and restaurants must refrain from sale of intoxicating beverages, retail liquor stores will not be required to close on election day, Attorney General U. S. Webb ruled today.

Section 63B of the state penal code, pre-repeal liquor control statute, does not mention off-sale liquor stores among those establishments which must close during the hours the polls are open, Webb said in an opinion requested by District Attorney Hiram W. Baker of Shasta county.

While the Kingfish's political machinations planned to take over this metropolis Sept. 7 to rule it like a conquered province, Rep. J. Y. He asked that a congressional committee be sent into "Hitlerized Louisiana" to watch the Sept. 11 congressional primary.

Intent upon discrediting the old regulars Democratic machine which has controlled local government for years, by exposing open vice and gambling always existing in this liberal city, Long was said to seek the dignity of a name representing unquestionable integrity.

The investigation, authorized by the recent special session of the legislature, which Long thoroughly dominates, has been repeatedly termed a method of districting attention from a planned coup of the Long machine at the congressional primary. St. Bernard and Jefferson parishes, adjoining New Orleans, have been as "open" as the metropolis itself, but are governed by Long henchmen and will not be investigated.

Only one member of the committee of nine has been appointed. The delay in getting the committee at work was understood to be caused by Long's inability to find counsel of high standing and well known enough to lend dignity and seriousness of purpose.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Col. Fulgencio Batista, chief of staff of the Cuban army, today approved death sentences passed by court martial on Maj. Angel Hechevarria and Capt. Augustin Erice, convicted of plotting the military overthrow of the government.

Hechevarria was commander of the third battalion, at Cuba's main military center. Erice was head of the signal corps.

PASTOR CONFESSES KIDNAPING FALSE

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Aug. 23.—(UP)—The Rev. Ralph H. Askew, Four-Square Gospel evangelist, was held in jail today on a charge of attempted extortion filed by federal agents after he confessed his story of being kidnapped was false and that he sent his wife notes demanding $25,000 ransom.

Askew is 28; his wife, 59.

According to Sheriff Paul Garrison, Askew also admitted sending a ransom demand to Almeda Semple McPherson Hutton in Los Angeles, threatening death for the "kidnap" victim and destruction by dynamite of Angelus Temple, headquarters of the Four-Square creed, unless the demand was met.

Askew pleaded not guilty to the charge which was specifically that he had used the name in an attempt to extort money from his wife. He was committed in default of $3000 bond.

SEN. HUEY LONG OFFER REFUSED BY N. Y. LAWYER

Seabury and Decora Decline Invitation to Conduct New Orleans Probe

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20.—(UP)—Sen. Huey P. Long approached Samuel Seabury, famous investigator of the Tammany hall administration of New York City, to conduct a similar investigation of the New Orleans municipal government, and was rebuffed, it was reported reliably today.

Long also approached Ferdinand Pecora, who conducted the senate investigation of Wall Street, and was turned down just as coldly, it was said.

THOMAS PROMISES NEW DEAL SUPPORT

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Active support of President Roosevelt's New Deal principles was pledged today by John J. Thomas, newly appointed vice governor of the Federal Reserve Board and nominal head of American banking.

"There has been no lack of cooperation between the Federal Reserve board and the treasury," Thomas said, "and I can't conceive where there would be any conflict."

"I am in complete sympathy with the policies of President Roosevelt and Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, Jr. There is no major change in policy contemplated by the Reserve board nor is there any occasion for a change."

STANDARD OF DOLLAR DEFENDED

NO CONTENT CHANGE

Confirm Reports Lloyds is Insuring Speculators Against Confiscation

(By The United Press)

THE WORLD'S money markets were disturbed today by wild rumors and speculation caused by recent fluctuations in foreign exchange and the movement in gold prices.

In Washington, the treasury department was ready, for a second time within a few weeks, to permit the exportation of gold to defend the dollar on its present standard of 15 5-21 grains.

It recently allowed a shipment of $1,000,000 in bullion to leave the country—a gesture designed to show the world its intention of supporting the dollar.

In London, a jump in the gold price to 138 shillings 7½ pence placed it at the highest price since Feb. 6; brought rumors that the price would go still higher.

Yesterday's gyrations of foreign currencies, wherein the pound sterling went down in terms of the franc, while the dollar sank sharply in terms of the franc and was fairly strong in terms of the pound, led to further rumors that England had withdrawn, temporarily, her support of the pound, and that a return to a gold bullion basis was contemplated.

In Paris, the franc today stood at 143½ to the dollar (653 cents a franc) at which it would be profitable to import gold from the United States. Observers believed the weakened dollar was the result of rumors of a further devaluation of the United States dollar—rumors which were denied in Washington.

Reports Lloyds of London were insuring speculators against a confiscation of gold, or the return of the gold standard with a devalued pound, were confirmed—but the insurance rate was only one-tenth of one per cent, and Lloyds were therefore "betting" 1000 to 1 against any such eventuality.

RISING WINDS SEND FIRE FIGHTERS BACK

QUINCY, CAL., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Rising winds sent fire fighters back to the Plumas national forest today as flames whipped out of control on the eastern ridge and advanced through heavy timber toward the Feather river.

Two hundred fire men were sent to the area and forest officials expected to check the fire before it caused extensive damage.

With nearly 7000 acres already burned, efforts of fire fighters were being concentrated on extinguishing small blazes and smoldering heaps when flames suddenly swirled into a heavy stand of timber and began advancing again. The fire was expected to spread to the river before it could be checked.

ANSWERS FILED BY COUNCIL MEN TO RECALL PLEA

Denying charges made by the Taxpayers' League in demanding a recall election, Mayor E. G. Warner and Councilmen William Penn and William Duncan, today filed answers to the recall plea. The answers were filed with City Clerk Ed Vogel yesterday.

Warner's lengthy statement contained the eight charges specified by A. G. Diehl, chairman of the league, and F. A. McFarren and William Duncan, and included a demand that they produce proof of the charges that Councilmen Warner, Penn, Fred Rowland and Plummer Burns are "dominated by a private political group." Warner said that this charge was absolutely false.

Warner said he had supported every economy measure for which the council had voted, except for reducing the personnel of the police and fire departments. He lauded the work of the two National Guard companies during the earthquake in justifying his approval of a $200 appropriation for extra mess funds during the summer encampment, when nothing was voted last year.

On the accusation that Warner and Penn have demonstrated that they have not the best interests of taxpayers at heart and will likely prevent further economies of from $25,000 to $50,000 during the ensuing year, Warner replied, "This charge is silly and preposterous. I deny the accusation."

As to whether Penn and Warner had lost the confidence of the public, Warner said that would be decided at an election.

Penn's answer was similar to Warner's and pointed out that the council as a whole had reduced expenditures and tax levies since his appointment to the board in 1932. He cited his record as fire commissioner in cutting the expenses of the department and denied that he had supported donations to private organizations. He said the advertising and music fund was voted by the people and was a governmental function, while the National Guard is a state military unit, controlled by the governor, and therefore not a private organization.

Penn said he should not be

TONIGHT DEADLINE FOR ABSENT VOTERS

County Clerk J. M. Backs today completed mailing of more than 63,000 sample primary ballots to voters of Orange county, and at the same time announced that tonight is the deadline for issuing absent voter ballots.

Approximately 400 absent voter ballots have been applied for thus far, Backs said. The total is not expected to equal the absent voter total of November, 1932, which exceeded 600.

LEAGUE FORMS FOR CAMPAIGN ON RADICALISM

In the infancy of the new deal, Smith bombarded salty sarcasm in the pages of the "new outlook." His term for President Roosevelt's managed currency was "baloney dollar."

Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., leader of the inflation bloc, characterized the league as "a strictly anti-Roosevelt organization of Democrats and Republicans die-hard whose chief aim will be to undermine the new deal."

There were indications, however, that the new deal and the Liberty League would be moderately friendly at the outset.

Jouett Shouse, squeezed out of Democratic high command when the Roosevelt forces captured party machinery at the 1932 Chicago convention announced organization of the league. Shouse is to be its president.

criticized for holding a job in the county welfare department because he had been able to help the council with information and cooperation on relief needs. He concluded his statement with the statement that a recall would be an unwarranted expenditure with a regular election coming next year.

Politically Speaking

BY GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Political guns have been leveled at Governor Frank F. Merriam and Upton Sinclair and a ceaseless fire was expected to be heard until the primary.

Sinclair has been the target for accusations ever since the campaigns moved into stride. Recently, snipers have increased their fire in Merriam's direction. All of which goes to prove, according to observers, that Sinclair and Merriam are feared most by the other candidates.

Merriam and Friend W. Richardson, state bank examiner, were accused of conspiring to further Merriam's gubernatorial candidacy by instructing employees of the Western Loan and Building company to support the executive actively.

Rose Sullivan, petitioning for a receivership for the company, said she was informed Richardson had been appointed with that purpose in view, and that managers of 400 apartment houses owned and controlled by the company had been instructed to aid Merriam's campaign.

Hearing on the petition will be held in Los Angeles August 27, on the eve of the primary.

George L. Sanders, Los Angeles publisher of a weekly newspaper, sued Sinclair for $105,000 damages, charging him with conspiracy to block publication of the periodical. The suit charged Sinclair and his co-defendants persuaded Sanders' lone mechanical employee to quit under threat of involving him in a libel action.

Joseph Daniels, former secretary of the navy, came to the defense of George Creel with a telegram denying charges that Creel once sought to influence the awarding of Teapot Dome oil leases to E. L. Doheny, oil magnate. Daniels said the Democratic gubernatorial candidate was "a faithful and public spirited official in the most trying days and is worthy of every confidence."

Creel also was endorsed by the Sacramento county democratic central committee.

Some gubernatorial candidates apparently are a bit bashful and do not desire to have their names before the public. All were asked for information concerning their platforms and something about their background. They were told the material would be used in a series of stories on governorship candidates.

Four of the 15 candidates ignored the request. The bashful ones were Dr. Z. T. Malaby, Dr. Forest E. Dowe and William J. McNichols, Democrats, and Sam Darcy, Communist.

Observers here never expected to see the day when a political candidate would turn down a chance at a newspaper story.

J. M. Inman, state senator who is a candidate for Congress, third district, will resign his senatorial position immediately after the primary, regardless of the election's outcome. In this manner, he will eliminate the necessity of a special election to choose his successor in the state senate. The selection may be made in November.

Roland Vandegrift, ex-director of finance whose neck felt Merriam's axe, will remain on the job until September 1, teaching A. E. Stockburger, new director, some of the intricacies of the state's key financial position.

Selection of Stockburger, who is city manager of Ventura and therefore from the south, caused Merriam to change his plans and scout around in the north for some one to replace Dr. J. M. Toner, director of institutions.

John R. Quinn's campaign heads claim that Merriam's bid for the nomination has been one of the most heavily financed in the state's history, and that interests supporting the acting executive have blocked channels where money for Quinn's campaign had been expected to flow.

Milton K. Young, Democratic candidate, proposes state hauling of agricultural products which cannot be shipped over railroad lines because of high freight rates. . . . He also would have the state engage in the packing house business. . . . George Creel favors modification of the sales tax to lessen the burden on necessities and increase the tax on luxuries. . . . Anita Whitney, Communist candidate for controller, and seven others were indicted in San Francisco on charges of making false affidavits in filing signatures on petitions placing the names of Communists on the primary ballot.

OFFERS BOY LIQUOR; LANDS BEHIND BARS

Arrested for vagrancy after allegedly offering a 13-year-old boy a drink of liquor at Fourth and Main streets last evening, Roy E. Cartwright, 31, San Diego, was booked at the county jail by Officers Roy Hartley and R. S. Elliott.

The youth came to the police station with a bottle of liquor about 7:30 o'clock and told officers that a man had given it to him and wanted him to take a drink, according to police reports. Cartwright was arrested at Fourth and Sycamore streets and taken to jail.

Lodge Plans For District Meeting

Plans for the next district council and district convention of the Knights of Pythias were announced today by Ray Auger, secretary of District No. 38, following a meeting of the Santa Ana lodge No. 149 last night, presided over by Chancellor Commander Edw. W. Cochems.

The district council will be held September 6 at 116 East Fourth street, with representatives present from the nine lodges in the district. On September 21 the district convention will be held with the Gardens Lodge as host, it was announced.

WILL ROGERS says:

IRKUTSK, Aug. 23.—(To the Editor of The Register:) Pine trees, low mountains, beautiful valleys today. Distances are far here and names have to be long to reach the next town: Petrovskysavod and Verhneudinsk. A mess of nationalities on the train, English, German, Russian, Swiss, Shecks, American Indians, Japanese, and the smartest of all is a Chinese, a noted authority on Far Eastern affairs. Nothing in the world's smarter than one Chinaman and nothing dumber than two.

Mr. Roosevelt told me to scout him some new brains material. I am signing this bird up.

BABY FOUND DEAD FROM SUFFOCATION

Believed to have been suffocated in bed, Amy Castro, 4-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Castro, Parry street, Anaheim, was found dead this morning by her parents.

Coroner Earl Abbey ordered the body removed to Hilgenfeld's chapel in Anaheim. No inquest will be held although an investigation is being made. The infant was sleeping with Mr. and Mrs. Castro in one bed.

LIQUOR DEALERS TELL DETAILS OF CAFE FIGHT

Following contradictory testimony concerning a fight in the Hof Brau cafe on August 11 between A. M. Caspari, former owner of the cafe and Carl Edgar, wholesale beer distributor, Judge J. G. Mitchell took the assault and battery case under advisement at noon, and will give his decision next week.

Caspari, the plaintiff, charged on the stand that he was insulted by Edgar, took off his glasses and hat to take a punch at Edgar, and was struck twice and choked over some beer cases. Joseph Rohm, bartender in the cafe, stopped the fight, Caspari said.

Edgar denied having choked Caspari and said he merely held him down. He also denied Caspari's charge that he was going to throw the former owner out of the establishment because the cafe had been attached for an unpaid beer bill owed Edgar.

Rohm testified that he saw Caspari take his glasses and rings off before the fight and also that he heard Caspari say at the end of the scuffle, "That's all I want. That's worth $1500 to me."

Caspari and three of his waiters said that no such statement was made. The waiters put on the stand were W. H. O'Neil, Barney Collins and Byron McKinney.

107 FALSE STARTS

About one-quarter of the Prosecutions handled in Santa Ana Justice Court by the District Attorney's Office is Wasted Effort!

TAXPAYERS' DOLLARS THROWN AWAY!

Records of Santa Ana Justice Court, where the bulk of prosecutions in this county are started, show that from December 6, 1932, to August 1, 1934, there were 435 complaints handled.

Of this number, 107 were subsequently dismissed on motion of the District Attorney's Office, itself. That does not take into account 31 other cases dismissed by the court, or found not guilty.

Each one of these 107 false starts represents a public admission of failure.

Failure to use proper judgment in filing the complaint, and thereby subjecting some citizen to unnecessary humiliation and expense.

Failure to investigate properly, so that the complaint either would never have been filed, or the prosecutor would have been prepared to carry it through successfully.

Each one of these false starts represents an indignity upon some innocent person, or the escape of some guilty person from justice.

All together, they present a depressing picture.

What a Record of Efficiency! What a Record of Economy! What a Record of Law Enforcement!

But how can any other sort of record be compiled, when the prosecuting staff is engaged in private law practice, which other attorneys say is probably the largest in the county.

The answer is that it can not!

What a Monument to Double Income!

There is only one remedy for that kind of waste and inefficiency. Law enforcement cannot be carried on under the heavy handicap of a divided attention. The taxpayer cannot continue to support the burden of prosecutors who do not prosecute.

Orange county needs a District Attorney with his mind on his job. It is time to change. It is time to elect—

PRIZE PLAQUE ON DISPLAY IN BANK WINDOW

Elaborate arrangements for staging the big world premiere and preview of "Peck's Bad Boy" at the Broadway theater for four days starting Sunday were nearing completion today as wide interest was aroused among boys under 16 years of age in the county in the Register-Broadway essay contest which closes Saturday noon.

The essay contest will give boys in Orange county an opportunity to win the handsome plaque which Jackie Cooper won in the picture for an essay on the subject "My Father." The plaque arrived in Santa Ana and is waiting to be given to the boy who writes the best essay on his father, using 250 words or less. It is on display in the Fourth street windows of the First National bank. Essays must be received at 12 noon Sunday to be entered.

The plaque is to be awarded with special ceremonies at the matinee Monday afternoon. All Boy Scouts in the county have been invited to be present to witness the ceremony.

For the first time in the history of the county, a world premier and preview will be held, arrangements for the event having been made by J. P. Burke, an Manager, Lester J. Fountain of the Broadway theater through the producer, Sol Lessor. It will be a colorful and gala occasion. Hollywood stars, directors and executives, newspaper men and critics, magazine writers, socialites and authors will flock here Sunday for the first showing and some celebrities are expected to be present for every showing.

Fountain announced that the box office at the Broadway will open at 10:30 a. m. Sunday so those that attend will not have to stand in line so long. The celebrities who attend, he said, will not come at one special time, but will drop in and out all day Sunday. Doors will open at 12:30 p. m. and the big show will start at 1 p. m.

"Peck's Bad Boy," many scenes of which were taken in Santa Ana, is not, as might be inferred from the title, a screened account of the doing (mostly misdoings) of Peck's "bad boy," but an adaptation of the spirit of the old stories, brought up to date.

Terrence H. Halloran, newly appointed director of SERA activities in Orange county, will come here to take charge of that important position with a wide experience in social welfare and community organization activities as a background, it was learned today.

For the past five years he has been associated with social agencies in Santa Barbara county in the capacity of director of boy guidance at the East Side Social Center. He previously was connected with welfare and relief agencies in Louisville, Kentucky.

Halloran is a native of Bismarck, North Dakota, and completed his high school education in that city. He attended Providence, Rhode Island college and was graduated from St. Mary's college at Oakland.

RETRACTION OF CHARGES ABOUT WILKIE ISSUED

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 23.—Issuing a complete retraction and public apology in connection with alleged defamatory and baseless charges said to have been spread, "published" and distributed by him against Captain Don Wilkie, non-political candidate for the office of sheriff of Orange county, Steven W. McCulloch of Placentia, yesterday admitted his error in circulating a document which, it is alleged, was calculated to injure the sheriff candidate in the eyes of the voters at the last minute of the campaign.

The plaque is to be awarded with special ceremonies at the matinee Monday afternoon. All Boy Scouts in the county have been invited to be present to witness the ceremony.

For the first time in the history of the county, a world premier and preview will be held, arrangements for the event having been made by J. P. Burke, an Manager, Lester J. Fountain of the Broadway theater through the producer, Sol Lessor. It will be a colorful and gala occasion. Hollywood stars, directors and executives, newspaper men and critics, magazine writers, socialites and authors will flock here Sunday for the first showing and some celebrities are expected to be present for every showing.

Fountain announced that the box office at the Broadway will open at 10:30 a. m. Sunday so those that attend will not have to stand in line so long. The celebrities who attend, he said, will not come at one special time, but will drop in and out all day Sunday. Doors will open at 12:30 p. m. and the big show will start at 1 p. m.

"Peck's Bad Boy," many scenes of which were taken in Santa Ana, is not, as might be inferred from the title, a screened account of the doing (mostly misdoings) of Peck's "bad boy," but an adaptation of the spirit of the old stories, brought up to date.

Make Changes in 'Y' Locker Room to Care for Jaycee

Y. M. C. A. members who have left their gymnasium equipment in lockers at the "Y" building for convenient storage are being warned by notice from the Y. M. C. A. office to call and secure their property before September 1. It is necessary to make extensive changes in the locker room arrangement in order to provide for the use to be made of the physical department by the Junior College, and storage space will be at a premium, according to General Secretary Ralph Smedley, so that it will no longer be possible to give space to any material not in active use. Articles not called for before September 1 will be disposed of, he said.

This notice does not apply to members who are making regular use of their lockers, but only to those who have not been taking advantage of the privileges lately. Smedley stated that the usual Y. M. C. A. program of physical education will be carried on, the hours being so arranged that the junior college classes will not seriously interfere with the "Y" classes. However, the entire locker room arrangement will be changed to make space for the additional lockers required, and it will be necessary for all members to relocate their lockers for the season.

SERPENT REPORTED AT LARGE

OAKLEY, Cal., Aug. 23.—(UP)—The San Joaquin river serpent, a strange monster 15 or 20 feet long, is alive and free today, so far as authorities can determine. They found no confirmation of the story that two Filipinos killed or captured the huge snake, popularly believed to be a boa constrictor which escaped from a circus a decade ago.

Nor could the authorities find the person who started circulation of the capture story.

POLITICAL ACTIVITY IS BANNED BY U. S. CIVIL SERVICE

Following its practice in election years, the Civil Service commission has placed a copy of a government circular in each federal establishment in the country, warning against political activity of classified employees, a practice which is prohibited by law.

Political activity by classified employees in city, county, state or national elections, whether primary or regular, or in behalf of any party or candidate, or any measure to be voted upon, is generally prohibited. Officers are prohibited from requesting or requiring any political service, or any political work from subordinates.

Persons who by provisions of the rules are in the competitive classified service, while retaining the right to vote as they please and to express privately their opinions on all political subjects, can take no active part in political management or in political campaigns.

The restrictions as to political activity apply to temporary employees, employees on leave of absence with or without pay, substitutes and classified and unclassified laborers.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers or them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Santa Ana Register:

On behalf of the Santa Ana Twenty Third Club, I wish to thank you for the support and cooperation given us by your paper in our recent attempt to put over our ball game with the Negro team from Iowa. The publicity given the game by Eddie West has been greatly appreciated, and his efforts in helping us choose a team to represent Santa Ana in the Los Angeles Examiner tournament next month are being gratefully received.

Thanking you again for your support, I remain,

Yours,
TERRY STEPHENSON JR.
Secretary.

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 20, 1934.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I wonder if you would allow space in your Public Forum columns for a statement concerning my candidate's attitude toward the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan. I refer to John E. King of Hemet, California. As is generally known, he is seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress from the California 19th Congressional district composed of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

So that my readers may know that there is no camouflage in my candidate's attitude toward the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan I am here quoting from a letter written to me personally on July 24, 1934, by Mr. King. Extracts from the letter follow:

"Mr. Robb, you tell me there is some apprehension as to my attitude on old age pension. I think you will recall that in practically every address I have made during the primary campaign I have stressed the importance of the next Congress.

"To me the most important item in President Roosevelt's program for the coming session of Congress is the proposal for old age pension. A century-long dream seems certain of fulfillment and the fearome specter that has haunted mankind will be laid. No longer need there be fear of poverty and destitution in old age. I am in hearty accord with the principle of old age pensions, and have declared, if elected, will favor any bill introduced that is demonstrated to be practicable and economically sound. I am for the Townsend Pension Plan."

Those words my dear readers are the words of John E. King, candidate on the Democratic ticket for Congress from our 19th district. It seems to me that they convey very emphatically the broad sympathy and understanding which Mr. King has for the problems of the old and growing old folks. A vote for John E. King by you elderly people will practically so it seems be a vote for your own interests.

Mr. Burke, your statements made in Birch park last Wednesday evening relative to the Old

Increased activity of the veteran's welfare department during the year just ended was due to many changes in the law, according to the report. After the passage of a bill in congress, a partial review of all files was made. On June 6, 1933, congress modified the previous law.

During the effective dates involving the change, those claims which had been denied by reason of a special board which was instituted by the president of the United States at the various bureaus. Twenty-one of such cases were heard from this district, 11 of which were given direct service connection. Of this total there were only three cases who had made their original applications in the welfare office.

On March 28, the report said, congress passed, over the president's veto, an act which restored in part benefits which had been reduced under the previous laws. This change necessitated another complete review of all case folders.

"In spite of these economy acts," the report stated, "the results to the veterans of this community have been as a whole, satisfactory. This is shown by the fact that the monthly increase in compensation for the year 1933-34 was $84,243.24 as against $49,800.30 for the year 1932-33.

"A very noticeable fact in the work of this office is the ever increasing correspondence in regard to death claims, and a corresponding number of widows' pension claims. This portion of the work has more than doubled that of the preceding year."

LONG BEACH TO SAVE $700,000

LONG BEACH, Aug. 23. — A policy of rigid economy which will save Long Beach taxpayers several hundred thousands dollars per year has been adopted by the new city council, elected to succeed the former council which was recalled several weeks ago.

One of the first acts of the new councilmen was to instruct City Manager Bonner to cut the proposed budget of $700,000 without slashing salaries of city employees, and to vote to eliminate the $50 per month automobile allowance which had been collected by previous members of the council.

Before the reduction, Bonner's budget provided for expenditures of $6,020,000.

Carl Fletcher was chosen as the new mayor, and he pledged the council to confine its work to legislative action and turn over all administrative duties to the city manager's office.

Age Townsend Pension plan were very pleasing to all of us who have been laboring to promote the Townsend Plan. Once again you show yourself to be favoring such movements and have for their goal a greater economic and social justice for all.

As the one in charge of John E. King's headquarters office, here in Santa Ana, I know that it will be deeply appreciated by all of his friends, who are supporting him for congress, if you will allow these statements space in your Public Forum columns.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER R. ROBB.

ASSEMBLYMAN CITES RECORD IN CLUB TALK

At a meeting last night of the Ut for Assembly club, the following address was made by the candidate:

"Believing that the Republicans of this district are entitled to a frank statement of opinion by the candidate who is seeking the Republican nomination from the office of assemblyman from the 74th district, I desire, therefore, to submit to my constituents the following brief upon which I shall base my campaign for re-election in November:

"A review of my record in Sacramento will reveal that I have conducted myself in complete accord with the pledges which carried me into the office to which I now seek to return.

"I supported every economy measure which I thought would not impair the essential elements of our government and its efficient operation to the needs of our people, and as a result, the controllable budget for this biennium was reduced 20 per cent. I supported the measure which passed to the state our county school matching requirement which relieved local real estate of the 70-cent school rate.

"I voted against reducing the appropriation for the aid of the needy and aged, the blind and the orphans, as was suggested in the governor's budget message.

"I supported the sales tax measure without exemption to class, interest or municipal corporations, as an equitable distribution of a tax burden to meet additional school costs assumed by the state.

"I supported local option measures which were all defeated. "I assisted in obtaining tax delinquency relief, tax moratorium, trust deed revision, repeal of Mattson acts, ease in terminating joint tenancy, and many other acts of direct and indirect benefit to this district.

"If I am re-elected to this office again I shall pursue the same even course of constructive legislation, giving full thought, sincere consideration and energetic action to the needs of this district and those of our state. I will not subscribe to personal political advancement by means of financial promises, which my experience and knowledge of state affairs lead me to know to be impossible of fulfillment. But I can, and do, pledge myself to fight for the preservation of the integrity of our state, that it may give a full measure of service to its people from whom it derives its power and its authority.

"Further, I will constructively seek methods of relief to those in distress, but I will strive to preserve the independence of the individual, that a permanent class of state dependents may not spring up.

"The confidence shown by the people of this district in not opposing my nomination is a source of gratification to me, and that confidence and that trust shall not by me be violated."

CREEL CREED

FOR THE ECONOMIC RECOVERY OF CALIFORNIA

The political platform of George Creel, the New Deal Candidate for Governor. Help nominate him next Tuesday.

This program is epitomized in the Four R's of President Roosevelt. George Creel has taken the thought of the President and has adapted it to the needs of California.

1. RELIEF . . .
  1. Establish Self-help Cooperatives.
  - "Self-maintenance for every unemployed man."
  2. Revive California's mining industry.
  - "Work for 60,000 unemployed."
  3. Subsistence-homesteads.
  - "A new start in life."
2. RECOVERY . . .
  1. Stimulate business and industry so that unemployed may be reabsorbed; thru—
    - a. State Recovery Act.
    - b. Shorter work day; shorter work week; no reduction of wages.
    - c. State-wide public works program.
    - d. Development of State mineral resources.
    - e. Restraint on big business so that independent merchants may remain in business.

3. REFORM . . .
  1. Pare state expenses at least 25 pct.
  - "Merge commissions; eliminate deadwood."
  2. Constitutional reform.
  - "Our State constitution a hodge-podge of conflicting expensive regulations."
  3. Revision of tax system.
  - "Lighten burden of those least able to pay."
4. RECONSTRUCTION . . .
  1. A new Social Order guaranteeing equal rights to all and the absolute elimination of special privilege.
  2. Achieved thru these steps—
    - a. Old Age Pensions.
    - b. Widows' Pensions.
    - c. Unemployed Insurance.
    - d. State Housing Act.
    - e. State Finance Corporation Act.

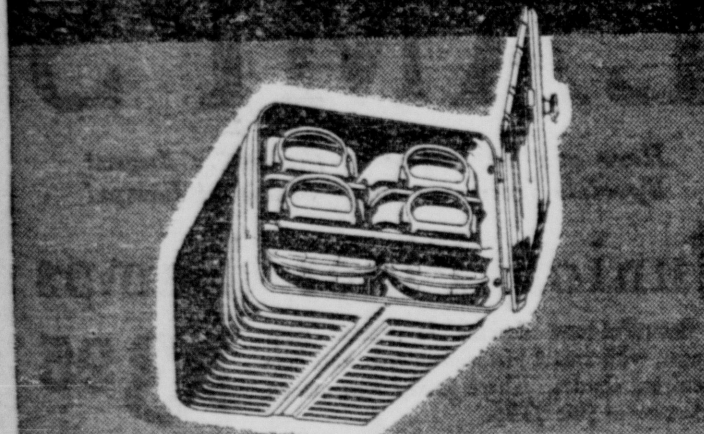

This is the tangible, definite Democratic program of George Creel upon which he bases his plea for your support at the Democratic Primaries. It is a simple, practical, workable program, fully in accord with the Roosevelt Recovery Program—a program which when tried out, will make an actuality of the four R's—Relief, Recovery, Reform and Reconstruction.

1. Under no circumstances will the taxes on LAND be increased. Home-owners and farmers now bear more than their full share of the tax load.
2. Sales taxes should be modified so that the burden on the necessities of life will be lightened and that upon the luxuries increased.
3. Those who are best able to bear the burden of taxation through receipt of large incomes must be called upon to bear their full proportionate share of government expense.
4. Owners of personal property, particularly of securities, do not bear their full proportionate share of the tax load. This form of wealth, particularly where wealth is idle, must be reached by increasing the present inadequate rates and by a resolute enforcement of the tax laws.

Orange County Creel - for - Governor Club
H. C. HEAD, Chairman C. HAROLD DALE, Secretary.

RILEY ASSERTS HE'S REALLY IN RACE TO WIN

Declaring that he is not in the race for sheriff as a foil for some other candidate and to split the vote so that someone else can get the nomination, Harry D. Riley, candidate for sheriff, told his radio audience over KREG last night that he is in the race for himself and no one else.

"I came into this contest because I believed that I have something to offer Orange county that would be good for it," the candidate said. "I injected myself into a contest with six other men because I believed the sheriff's office needs an executive at its head."

The speaker said his campaign has not been against his opponents, and that he finds it a pleasure not to have to defend a questioned record of incumbency or to try to establish a claim to experience in criminal matters, as others feel inclined to do.

He traced his record as an automobile dealer for 26 years, 16 of them in this county. He said he helped organize and for six years lead the Orange County Crippled Children's Relief association. He organized the Anaheim and Fullerton Rotary clubs and for five and a half years was president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce. Three years ago he directed the Santa Ana Community Chest.

If he failed to establish loyalty among deputies, he would replace them, he said, with men who would give honest enforcement of laws. He pledged himself to administer the sheriff's office efficiently and economically. He said he would attempt to unify the efforts of 154 persons employed in keeping the peace and to promote harmony among the various law enforcement agencies.

"It is my conviction," he said, "that the sheriff is elected to enforce the laws. It is his responsibility and if this duty falls to me, I shall not attempt to shift it to another."

COUNTY C. OF C. TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Regular monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County will be held at the Golden Bear cafe, Huntington Beach, Tuesday at 8:30 o'clock. It was announced today by President Tom R. Talbert. A program is being arranged that should be of unusual interest to delegates. It was announced.

There will be 30,000 different exhibits in the major divisions comprising the combined Los Angeles, Riverside and Orange County Fair, Pomona, Sept. 15 to 30.

CONFIDENCE MEN GET $250,000 FROM ORANGE COUNTY CITIZENS; CONVICTIONS MAKE THEM WARY

Unknown to most citizens of Orange county, confidence and "bunco" men here have secured more than $250,000 in fraudulent schemes and swindles from 1929 to 1933 and are still at work fleecing unsuspecting county investors.

It will never be possible to accurately gauge the activities of the swindlers because human nature is such that a victim dislikes to let the world know he has been duped, according to Sheriff Logan Jackson. From the far-flung operations of those that have been apprehended, however, it is certain that thousands of dollars annually go into the pockets of suave and smooth-talking "con" men.

Several of the more notorious swindlers have been arrested by sheriff's officers here during the past few years and a study of their records gives a good indication of the various methods used to steal money and securities. It reveals that middle aged and elderly persons, many of whom have come to California with money to invest, are the logical victims. It gives an inkling of the varied methods used to fleece professional men, ranchers, widows and others from their hard-earned money.

Confer With Officers

Knowing the average person's desire to secure larger returns on their investments, the swindlers play on this characteristic with great success. But the inevitable sometimes happens. The victim gets suspicious. Authorities are called in. Arrests follow. The suspect is sentenced. Warnings are sent out to investors. That's why this little inquiry into official records may save some unwary person the loss of his or her life's savings.

The schemes used are numerous and varied. Usually the "bunco" obtains a list of stockholders from some dishonest employee of a legitimate brokerage house for a certain consideration. In some instances, the list contains names and numbers of shares of stock held by the individuals on record at that house. The bunco man then approaches the holder of securities and endeavors to separate him from valuable securities in exchange for inferior and sometimes valueless stocks.

A variation of this method concerns the "converter" who approaches the stock holder and persuades him to trade auto or other good stock for an inferior stock which, according to the converter, could be disposed of quicker and at a greater profit. The victim, like the average man trying to increase his wealth, falls for the trade and receives oil stock for his valuable stock. The converter then passes on the known as the 100 per center, a confidence man who takes all and gives nothing in return. He telephones the victim and represents himself as the converter. He says he has a buyer for the oil stock at a great profit and to conclude the deal, must have the stock certificates and the "bonded messenger" calls for the stock and is never seen again.

Convicted Here

A similar scheme tried in Orange county failed because the victim had the intuition to take the license number of the messenger's car. Two days later, he called the converter, learned of the swindle and notified sheriff's officers. Through quick work, the deputies arrested three men, recovered the certificates and sent the "100 per center" to the penitentiary.

SONS, DAUGHTERS PICNIC POSTPONED

The annual picnic of the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, scheduled for tomorrow in Irvine Park, has been postponed indefinitely, it was learned today.

Roy M. Pollock, commander of the Sons organization and Mrs. Addie Gardner, president of the women's group, are both absent from the city, and it was felt advisable to hold the event at a later date, it was stated by officials of the affair.

NINE MONTHS OLD BURGLARY SOLVED

Two Garden Grove boys, aged 14 and 17, broke into the home of Ernest Littlejohn of Garden Grove last Armistice Day and stole the money from two children's banks. After considerable investigation and work, Deputy Sheriff Walter Dungan of the farm theft detail arrested the boys yesterday and brought them to Santa Ana, one to the county jail and the youngest to the juvenile detention home, charged with investigation of burglary.

The youths admitted the burglary and said they had taken the money to Long Beach and spent it on amusements, Dungan said. Although the boys insisted that there was only $8 or $9 in the banks, Littlejohn estimated there was nearly $20, according to Dungan.

Favorite Scheme

The old gag of the bill fold is still worked successfully. The bunco learns the history of the victim and then manipulates so the unsuspecting victim finds a bill fold containing several hundred dollars and valuable papers. Usually honest, he returns the billfold to the "stockbroker" who insists on a reward and finally invests the billfold money in stocks for the finder. This stock immediately soars to new heights and shows a marginal profit in most instances of $20,000 to $40,000. During the manipulation of the investment, the bunco man never permits his victim to get away from him and sticks closer than the proverbial leech. He wines and dines him and provides plenty of entertainment.

After a few days, it is suggested the stock be sold to reap a harvest before a slump eats in. The finder then is urged to show his good faith to prove he could have paid his losses as well as his winnings, by producing from $10,000 to $20,000 to satisfy the brokerage house through which the alleged purchase had been made.

A "bonded messenger" completes the deal by taking the money of the finder supposedly to the brokerage house. However, he decamps with the money and splits with the "stockbroker."

These are but a few of the clever rackets used to hoodwink honest citizens. It should serve to warn investors to act cautiously, investigate their investments very thoroughly, seek the advice

By HARRY GRAYSON

Edward Riley Bradley is ready to strike again with a pair of high-class, 3-year-olds, Balladier and Boxhorn.

Balladier, son of Black Toney, uncovered fine form in annexing the United States Hotel Stakes. He might well go on.

Boxhorn is the only son Blue Larkspur sent to the races this year. Boxhorn is a great-grandson of Black Toney, going back in tall male through Blue Larkspur, Black Seaver and to renowned progenitor. He was a brilliant winner of the Saratoga Special, a sweepstakes in which the entire purse goes to the colt in the van at the wire.

Bradley's chance of winning the Kentucky Derby and having a highly successful season in 1935 are exceptionally good. If one could judge from the 2-year-old form of Behave Yourself, Burgoon King, and Brokers' Tip, each of which topped the cocoanuts for the great gambler at Churchill Downs.

And yet, if one remembers what happened to Blue Larkspur, Captain Hal, and some more of Bradley's better bangtalls in the big number at Louisville, the odds have to be scaled down a bit.

Black Toney Tops
However, present indications are that Bradley will not have to reveal his uncanny knack of saddling the unpredictable and riding it home in front to enjoy a robust run next year. Having gotten off on the right foot, Balladier and Boxhorn have only to show natural development to gather in the sheaves.

Bradley's idle hour farm, in the blue grass country, is one of the most complete nurseries and breeding establishments in the world, but its master does not have the call upon the varied equine blood which the Whitneys can muster.

Bradley hit it lucky to begin with, by obtaining the services of the Peter Pan product, Black Toney. Most breeders spend years trying to find a serviceable stallion.

Black Toney's offspring has earned the Kentucky cologne from Chicago, Lexington and Palm Beach more than a million dollars. Blue Larkspur alone accounted for $275,000. And Black Toney has brought close to a half million in stud fees.

THEM AS HAS GITS
Bradley's luck could not be better demonstrated than by the careers of Brokers' Tip and Burgoon King.

Brokers' Tip won just one race, but it was the Kentucky Derby—the one in which the jockeys, Meade and Fleher, the latter aboard the favored Head Play, fought their crazy quilt battle while roaring down the stretch.

Burgoon King failed to stand up in the manner expected of a Derby and Freshness winner. The victory of Behave Yourself in the Derby was another that could not be explained by hard figures.

The eternal question mark of racing has grown larger as the result of Bradley's frequent handling, but, to repeat, with a pair like Balladier and Boxhorn, it now appears that the wily old gentleman will not have to pull bunnies from bonnets to land in the more important money in 1935.

BRITISH CRICKET FANS MOAN

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Alarmed, the batsman would back tralla yesterday when the "Ashes" emblematic of world supremacy in cricket, by defeating the English side in the fifth and deciding test at the oval.

The Aussies, as they do not like to be called, won in what baseball fans would term a pitchers' battle, their winning margin being a paltry 562 runs.

Although separated by upwards of 4000 miles of ocean I can hear the moaning at the—at the Falestaff bar, at Tony's bar, at the Cock and Hen, the Crown and Keys, and all the others.

And I can see the London papers, they will be turned over to the disaster. P. G. H. Fender, who looks like Harpo Marx and who, according to the way he signs his stories, is "Surrey's most popular captain since the war," will have something like this to say:

British Albies Expected
"Our batting was terrible, our fielding worse. The pitch was sticky. The wicket was pitchy. It was dismal. Sheer dry-rot. The placing of the players was atrocious. Had I been in command the right gully would have been in silly mid on and the silly mid on in long leg."

Jack Hobbs, the Babe Ruth of cricket, who is also one of the trained seals swerving the matches, will undoubtedly explain that the wicket was "not only pitchy and sticky, but it was tufty as well, offering the Australian Googlies every advantage, and England sorely needed Harold Larwood and his body-line-theory bowling."

It was Larwood, a Nottingham bowler, who became the most discussed man in the British empire when he was not asked to join the English side of the start of the tests months ago. Harold wasn't asked because he insists on bowling the body-line-theory, which is nothing more than a fancy name for dusting 'em off.

When a batsman became too familiar with Harold's deliveries Harold would simply wind up and let one fly at the batsman's head.

TRIS SPEAKER SPEAKS

Tristram Speaker picks a winner at this stage of the campaign for the first time in his life. Spoke and Boxhorn.

"But I no longer consider naming the Tigers and Giants a prediction," explained Speaker, now in the wholesale liquor business in Cleveland, to which city his Indiana brought the west's last American league pennant in 1929. "Clubs with their get up and go that have hovered around the top all season as they have, lead now, and which are to play the important month of September at home, rarely miss."

Speaker had been reading where Tyrus Raymond Cobb, upon his return to Detroit for an exhibition game the other day, had watched a team that carries on the tradition that he established—speed, flaming competitive spirit, determination and doggedness, flashing courage and daring—a club that picked up the lines of battle where the Georgia Peach left them, an outfit molded in his fashion, and patterned after his standards.

FOLLOW THE LEADER

"Only one kind of manager could build a team like that," mused Speaker, "the emotional dynamic type of player manager like Mickey Cochrane."

"That's an advantage both the Tigers and Giants have over the opposition—remarkable players having big years directing and inspiring them."

"E. Terry has all of Cochrane's fire in a different way. He long ago learned how to make up his mind, and the Giants have as much faith in him as the Tigers have in Cochrane."

"It is easy to see why a club headed by a Terry or a Cochrane is more alert and has more drive than one managed from the dug-out."

"The feats of their leaders keep the Giants and Tigers on their toes. There is no loafing where the boys do more than his share of the work. There is a tremendous difference in the bench manager's 'Go out there and do it' and the player pilot's, 'Come out and do it with me!'"

IN PALM OF HIS HAND

"A player manager has the game in the palm of his hand, particularly when he is a catcher or an infielder. And Rogers Hornsby was right when he said that becoming a manager should improve a player's game, if anything. It handicaps the play of only those who were unfitted for the post in the first place."

"The records of Fred Clarke—you may go back farther than him—Napoleon Lajoie, Bill Carrigan, a fellow named Speaker, Eddie Collins, 'Bucky' Harris, Hornsby, Terry, Charley Grimm, the Joe Cronin of last year, Frank Frisch, Jimmy Wilson, and some more prove this."

Nine of the current big league managers play, if you include Hornsby, who still can do almost everything better than any man on his payroll. And a few more of the McGraws and Mackos find modeled for a reason other than financial.

BILLY DOEG EXTENDED BY BLAIR

Rockey, Williams In Boxing Arena Feature

The Orange County Athletic club offers tonight a double main event, the finale pairing two crack lightweights and the first matching a couple of hard-hitting heavyweights.

Jack Rockey, probably the best 135-pounder among Southern California's amateurs, goes into the windup against Morrie Williams, a Jewish youth from Indianapolis who came to Matchmaker "Bud" Rutledge so highly recommended that Rutledge felt no hesitancy in starting him in his initial appearance.

Williams invades the highway sock emporium at the head of a stable of Boyle Heights Athletic club boxers. He will be an even bet against Rockey on the strength of his Indianapolis record and reputation.

The heavyweights, Ray Garrison of Orange and Bill Robinson of Long Beach, figured in a sensational contest last week. Robinson winning by a third round knockout after being down himself. That

SEAVER TO BE LATE ENTRANT IN STATE GOLF?

DEL MONTE, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Old Man Golfbug appeared an odds-on favorite today to bring back into the state amateur tournament blonde Charley Seaver, who bolted the old man's green-pastured flock for the sandy wastes of a Kern county oil field.

Seaver, California amateur champion, announced his job near Bakersfield would prevent him from defending his state crown and from participating in the National Amateur championships, to be played in Brookline, Mass.

Seaver didn't enter the national play. But he's weakening. With qualifying trials in the annual state tournament opening Monday over the Monterey peninsula's most exclusive courses, Seaver cracked. In a telephone conversation with California Golf association officials, he said there is every likelihood he will tee off with the qualifiers Monday.

"I'm making every effort to get up for the tournament," Seaver said. "I certainly don't want to miss it."

And so—with a wary eye toward Kern county, more than 100 divot-diggers swarmed over the four courses to be used in qualifying rounds of the competition. Hazardous Pebble Beach links, the Del Monte No. 1 course, and the Monterey Peninsula Country club were opened for practice last Monday. The Cypress Point links opened today and will be open tomorrow for practice rounds, but will be closed Saturday and Sunday to all but members.

A field nearly twice as large as that which answered the starter's summons last year was in prospect, tournament officials said. In addition to a brilliant field of younger stars, a formidable lineup of "old guard" golfers, including five former state champions, and a number of titleholders from outside the state will be arrayed against Seaver, should he take up defense of his laurels.

Included in the latter group will be Francis Brown of Honolulu, 1930 titleholder; Chandler Egan, 1934 Walker Cup player and 1926 champion; Jack Neville, five-times champion and winner of the inaugural tournament in 1912; Albert (Scotty) Campbell, Seattle, Canadian Amateur champion; Phillips Finlay, Midwick, and Ken Storey, Pacific Northwest champion.

GIANTS WORRIED AS THEY BATTLE DEANS
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The champion New York Giants meet a couple of hard-hitting homebats from St. Louis during the next day or so, and the champions are not at all certain about the outcome.

In fact, if the Giants are certain about anything, it is that the outcome will be bad for the Giants. The two fellows are the Dean boys, Paul and Jerome Herman. They pitch for St. Louis, and when they pitch against the Giants they practically always win.

During the present season, the Deans have won eight games against the Giants—four each. St. Louis is the only club holding an edge in games over New York, nine to six; and the Giants have not defeated a Dean this year.

Londonos used a series of body slams to take the third and deciding fall in 15:11 after each had fallen out of the ring. Londonos employed his "unconscious hold" to win the first fall in 31 minutes.

YANKEE, RAINBOW IN AMERICA CUP TRIAL

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Preliminary brushed aside, the two big boats Yankee and Rainbow—will go to it today in what should prove the greatest free-for-all scramble in the history of the America's Cup trials.

The boats battle in waters off this port for the right to defend the mug against the new British challenger, Endeavour.

Seldom has the pre-race series attracted the interest of the present skirmish, in which the Vanderbilt syndicate's Rainbow, pride of the New York Yacht club, will be placed against the Boston-owned sloop, Yankee, sailed by Charles Francis Adams, who skipped Resolute home in 1920.

In two preliminary series Yankee gave its wash to Rainbow every time out. But between tests Rainbow suddenly found her bottom, and last week stood off Yankee and Westmore twice in the King's Cup and Astor Cup races.

During the present season, the Deans have won eight games against the Giants—four each. St. Louis is the only club holding an edge in games over New York, nine to six; and the Giants have not defeated a Dean this year.

Londonos used a series of body slams to take the third and deciding fall in 15:11 after each had fallen out of the ring. Londonos employed his "unconscious hold" to win the first fall in 31 minutes.

LONDOS WINS THIRD FALL, KEEPS 'TITLE'

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Jim Londonos, 200, today retained his claim to the world's wrestling championship after throwing Jim Browning, 232, Verona, Mo., two falls out of three at Olympic auditorium last night.

Londonos used a series of body slams to take the third and deciding fall in 15:11 after each had fallen out of the ring. Londonos employed his "unconscious hold" to win the first fall in 31 minutes.

MUZZLED

The raucous howls of "Oh, Boy," emitted by Patsy O'Toole, shown above in frenzied action, have been stilled and Detroit baseball fans slowly are regaining their hearing. Patsy, whose howlings at the last world series in Washington, brought a request from President Roosevelt that he be moved far, far away, has been ordered by the Detroit American League management to do his roaring in whispers or stay away from Navin Field.

FOOTE RETURNS HOME: SAINTS REPORT SEPT. 1

Back home for a "breathing spell" before he plunges into the task of sharpening Saint wings, Bill Foote, Santa Ana high school's coach, took time out today to set September 1 as the first day of football practice at Poly field.

Foote spent the summer at Minneapolis, where his parents reside and where Foote attended the University of Minnesota as a member of Bernie Bierman's school for coaches. He and Mrs. Foote motored to the coast, checking in late Tuesday. They left in June.

Losing 11 regular and 6 first-string reserves from last year's squad, Foote faces a none too promising situation here. However, six lettermen will be back, along with at least eight players who saw considerable action in the '33 season and many others who registered improvement during spring practice.

Foote's biggest loss will be Art Stranek, all-Coast prep league fullback, who enrolls as a freshman at Southern California next month. Stranek was the Saint's chief offensive and defensive weapon a year ago, an outstanding player with a mediocre club.

Other missing regulars will be Captain Ford Underwood, guard; Al Halderman, center; Charles Roemer and Roland Williams, tackles; Myron Newton and Dave Webb, ends, and Walter Hendrie, Leroy Levens, Paul Hales and Fred Erdhaus, backs.

Returning regulars include Carl ("Butch") Schultz, 180-pound tackle; Dick DeMet, 170-pound guard; Don Evans, guard; Ray Hamilton, center who may play in the backfield this year; Waldo Smith, quarter, and Byron Noll, fullback.

Foremost among the '33 substitutes who are likely to fill positions are Bill Hawkins, "Whitney" Mann, Ray Clark and Dick White, backs; Erwin Yonel and Roger McCune, ends; Leonard Ash, guard. Clark was a semi-regular last season until he suffered a broken ankle in the Covina game.

The Saints plan an intensive schedule, with at least four non-league starts in addition to their five conference games. Orange, Fullerton, Covina and either Santa Barbara or Herbert Hoover H of San Diego will be met.

BANKERS HOPE TO CINGH CITY TITLE TONIGHT

So near and yet so far from its first Santa Ana City league title, the Commercial National bank's baseball team tonight hopes to end its playoff with the Union Oil company at the Municipal Bowl.

Winner of the first two games of a three-out-of-five series, the Bankers need only one more victory to wait to an undisputed championship. Dormie three, the Oilers must capture the remaining three contests in succession if they salvage anything out of the wreckage.

Thus far, the Commercial Nationals have dominated the series in every way. Roy Stout has out-pitched by a decisive margin both customers. The Santa Ana 20-30 Club All-Stars, local representative in the Southern California softball tournament, will have its first workout against a pickup club known as Wayne Garlock's Stars.

Gilbert Yorba will be on the cusp for Garlock's outfit, with Walt Markel back of the dish.

The 20-30 Stars, managed by Lyle Kelly, will give a squad of almost 20 players a chance. This will be the first of a series of practice contests by which Kelly intends to nominate his lineup for the opening game of the Los Angeles tourney, starting September 5. The Santa Anans travel to San Juan Capistrano Friday night.

Kelly and Wylie Carlyle of the 20-30 club conferred with tournament officials in Los Angeles yesterday, and were informed that Santa Ana's first game would be held at the Fresno Street playground, located in Belvedere Gardens off Whittier boulevard. If victorious in its first two starts, Santa Ana will go into Wrigley Field for the last three nights of the tourney. The 20-30's have purchased brilliant red jerseys, with the words Santa Ana spelled in three-inch capitals across the front.

Gene Thomas' Irvine Beanyknicks invade Fullerton tonight for the crucial and last game of the Orange County Night league's second-half. The two teams are tied as they go into the final clinch. The winner qualifies for a playoff series with the first-half champion, Brea. Other games tonight: Olive at Orange; Huntington Beach at Anaheim.

Dorney baseball makes its bow at Westminster tonight, with teams representing the Westminster and Garden Grove Chambers of Commerce "bronco-busting" at 8 o'clock.

Huntington Beach officials expect the banner crowd of their season tomorrow when Santa Ana invades the city for the final game of the National league schedule a contest that decides whether Huntington Beach wins the second-half or ties Santa Ana and Westminster for the honor. Temporary bleachers will be spread along the outfield lines to accommodate the throng.

NEW SECTION OPEN TO HUNTERS SEPT. 1

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—September 1 marks the opening of another district to deer hunting, and will give hunters three sections of the state where they may legally seek venison.

This district is made up of Humboldt and Del Norte counties, and a large portion of Western Siskiyou county. Last season there was killed in this area more than 1500 bucks by licensed hunters, Humboldt county alone turning in 338 tags.

Game wardens in District 13 report that deer have shown up in good numbers and that they have all, with few exceptions, got hard horns and are in splendid condition.

The Redwood Highway shortened by completion of the Waldo cut-off at Sausalito, and the new high speed road opened out of Cloverdale, it is expected there will be more hunters going into the northwestern deer country than for many seasons past.

ROSS TO QUIT RING IN 2 YEARS, CLAIM

FERNDALE, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Barney Ross, holder of the world's welterweight and lightweight titles, who will defend the first Sept. 6 against Jimmy McLaurin of Vancouver, B. C., plans to quit the ring in two years, he told friends here.

The Chicago scrapper, training for the McLaurin battle, said he expects to reach his peak by that time, and wants to quit before he gets "bumped off."

"I'll quit even if I add the mid-deweight title to the two I hold now," he said. "I'll be financially independent and at my peak. That's when all fighters should quit."

Paste Flowable Ready-Mix

● PASTE for those who prefer the original emulsion. FLOWABLE, same as the original Paste except that the emulsion flows like cream.

In any spray... of any type... in any form... ORTHO stands for experience and dependability.

WASHINGTON
BY Paul Mallon

MONEY NOISES

The inflation whoopee has started again. It is being encouraged particularly by the fact that every near-insider in Washington and New York has heard that a leading government adviser recently predicted it, off the record, to fifty or more people. He did not say how much or when. The method he chose to spread the word has caused many people to doubt the value of the prediction. When anyone lets so many people in on such a highly speculative secret, it usually is not a very good secret.

The truth seems to be that the administration is trying to sing two different tunes on the money piano at the same time. That is what was done on silver. The nationalization motif had an inflationary undertone, but a thoroughly firm money melody. The inflationary hints are supposed to drive stagnant money out of hoarding before prices go higher. The sound money melody is designed to soothe the ears of government bondholders.

It takes a master political pianist to attempt those two themes at the same time.

METHOD
More interesting than that, however, is the fact that certain money experts have worked out a specific plan whereby the government could undertake a controlled moderate money inflation. They base it on what already has been done with gold and silver.

It is highly desirable in undertaking inflation for the government to seize all gold and silver. Such action keeps these precious metals in the country and yet out of public circulation in competition with paper money. That has been done. Another desirable step is to devalue gold and get a big reserve profit in the Treasury. That has been done.

The next step would be to devalue the silver dollar commensurate with gold, thus accumulating a silver reserve profit in the Treasury. By thus cutting the content of the silver dollar, the Treasury also could hasten the day on which silver would be established at the promised 25 per cent ratio with gold. It would have to buy very little additional silver to reach the ratio goal. The Treasury would also then have a theoretical silver as well as gold "profit" against which it could issue 3½ to 5 billions of new currency. That would be a limited monetary inflation and a fairly sound one because the new money would be backed by gold and silver, although at a depreciated value.

WORKINGS
It may sound complicated, but it is a relatively simple book-keeping trick. The government merely increases the price of its gold and silver monetary reserves arbitrarily, and uses the profit to issue currency.

How much good it would do is a matter for debate. The new currency issue probably would be used to pay off the public debt. That would be the logical thing to do. In that case the money would only replace existing bonds in banks and insurance companies now already overloaded with money. However, it might create an inflationary psychology and thus stimulate buying.

PROSPECTS
This is just one of the plans being talked of—in fact, it is the only logical inflationary plan being discussed. There is no reason to believe it will be adopted. Instead, there are very good reasons for believing that the government has made no definite monetary plans for more than thirty days in advance. It seems to be feeling its way along cautiously, with no commitments publicly or privately judiciously delaying its decision until it sees what the future economic situation will turn out to be.

Nothing could be done about this plan anyway until November 9. The government allowed ninety days for seizure of silver and the ninety-day period will expire then. Also, the congressional elections and the Fall financing of the Treasury will then be completed. Mark it down in your hat for a check along about November 15.

HYDE PARK
Mr. Roosevelt has a secret administrative use for his home at Hyde Park. His associates know he is not going there merely for a month's vacation.

The inside on that is that, in the White House, he lives like General Johnson in a goldfish bowl. If important people are called in to see him, everyone knows about it immediately.

Hyde Park is a retreat where President Roosevelt can run visitors in and out without anyone being the wiser.

NOTES
Domestic sugar refineries were deeply liked by the Cuban treaty to be made public tomorrow. They worked hard on the inside to limit the treatment given Cuban refineries but were unsuccessful.

Ben Cohen is back from Europe to write the forthcoming social reform legislation. The Presidential committee will submit ideas and he will assemble them into court-proof legislation. He will not take his pen in hand until he finds out how the railroad pension court case is decided.

THE BEST GOVERNMENT BOND AUTHORITIES swear it was the western banks which took profits when the market went down recently. However, they are all back in, and the market is in good shape to absorb the September Treasury financing.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin
SHRUNK
Informed New Yorkers see plenty of storm clouds ahead for heavy industry despite the government's efforts to help.

They cite the decline of railroad steel purchases as a fair sample of future prospects. Production capacity for steel rails amounts to 4,000,000 tons a year for the four big manufacturers. 1,000,000 tons are estimated as the maximum the railroads will take even under forced draft.

Nearly all roads are well laid with 130-pound rails—including sidings and switches—which are good for five to ten years more. Moreover railway executives are giving a lot of thought to the probable future growth of air traffic. They see no inducement in the present situation to spend big money for maintenance that may start gathering rust earlier than seems gathering at the moment.

So experts say this segment of the steel business will do little for recovery.

GRIEF
The demand for heavy electrical machinery has also dropped almost out of sight—and shows no sign of a comeback. From 1925 to 1929 power houses were put in apple-pie order and the equipment is good for years to come.

Existing plants have 50 per cent more capacity to produce heavy electrical goods than private industry can employ. The government's power development plans are the only life-line in sight for this field.

Financial observers also doubt that the housing program—although it should be helpful in stimulating employment—will be much of a boon to heavy manufacturers. It will hardly reach them at all in its renovation aspects and the only type of new building for which there is any real demand is small houses costing $3000 to $4000, with an acre or so of ground. These won't amount to enough to convert the lean years to fat.

LABOR
Wall Street has become extremely unhappy about the Steel Labor Relations Board. Conservatives feel that Judge Stacy and his associates are giving labor all the breaks.

The Board's ruling that employers have no legal interest in employee organizations—in the case of the West Virginia Rail Co.—disturbs them especially. It would enormously improve chances of maintaining the open shop in the steel industry if the companies could demand information as to what employees belonged to which union.

Open shop advocates are also worried about Apollo Steel developments. It's an almost certain bet that the Board will uphold labor's contention that the company must deal only with the union which wins the election instead of with both as the company desires. This case closely parallels that of Houde Engineering—on which the National Labor Board is due to make a similar decision.

The steel people will use every legal device their lawyers can think of to block the Board's "radicalism." But astute observers predict government agencies will enter a course pretty much to labor's liking for the next few months—the idea being to hit the conservative heads of the Federation keep their thrones. They'll be needed as shock-absorbers unless recovery moves faster.

POLITICS
Comptroller Joseph D. McGoldrick's decision to contest the Democratic primaries with official nominee Frank Taylor is a pain in the neck to the regulars. They thought this stage would be a mere formality after trial withdrawal. McGoldrick hasn't a chance to win in the primaries but he can force Tammany and its allies to spend plenty to beat him. That's no help when the boys are trying to meet a deficit already.

Republican backstagers expect that party opposition to McGoldrick—based on Mayor LaGuardia's "ingratitude" in the matter of patronage—will peter out before it gets serious. A veteran Republican campaigner prophesies that McGoldrick will run well ahead of the Republican State ticket in the city and that Republican candidates for other offices would be smart to hitch their wagons to his star.

CHARTER
Governor Lehman and the State legislature pulled a neat one in their final move on city charter revision.

By authorizing a new charter commission of five members—all to be named by Mayor LaGuardia—they got out from under a load of political dynamite. The charter is now eliminated as an issue in this fall's election and neither the Governor nor the legislators can be held accountable for what happens to it hereafter. Even the Mayor has no kick—he got exactly what he asked for.

And beyond that the new arrangement is a bomb under Fusion's doorstep. The Mayor now has full responsibility—which makes him a wonderful target. The Democrats are confident he will get himself more involved than a kitten with a ball of yarn and wind up by wrecking the popularity of his administration.

Tammany smacks its lips at the prospect and there are a number of Republicans who wouldn't be exactly heartbroken if things worked out that way.

SIDELIGHTS
Insiders learn that Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins is working on a plan to take care of 6,000,000 permanent unemployed running in the red even after bone-deep economies.

Those with commodity market connections are making the best showing. . . . Wall Street looks for some fancy publicity on the Franklin car now that E. L. Cord has acquired an interest in the company. . . . The National Economy League is once more actively gunning for members and funds.

JUDGE A BANK BY ITS USEFULNESS!

The true measure of a bank's value is its usefulness. It must provide a range of services to meet the needs of customers and community; it must offer complete facilities for the convenience of depositors; it must be prepared to act as a source of reliable information on matters of business and finance; it must be in a position to extend credit for legitimate purposes; and, last but not least, it must provide absolute safety for depositors' funds at all times.

45,000 people in the Santa Ana territory (with total deposits of over $8,000,000.00) have judged this bank by its usefulness and selected it as their financial headquarters. May we serve you, too?

Announce Recommended Wages For Walnut Harvest

INCREASE OF 14 PER CENT

Recommendations for picking rates and wages for the coming harvest season in walnuts were announced here today following a meeting of Southern California walnut growers at Los Angeles. Packing house managers and growers from this section discussed the picking rates and wages, according to a report made to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg and the walnut department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Prices recommended for walnuts hulled in the field where no tower shaking was done, was 50 cents per sack for seeds and 40 cents per sack for buds; hulled in the field with tower shaking 45 cents per sack and 35 cents per sack; with hulls left on 20 cents per sack whether tower shaken or not. A minimum wage scale of $2.25 per nine-hour day for common labor was recommended. It was agreed that the rates are for average conditions only, and the grower may have to vary the rate to meet the situation in his own orchard.

For the past four years the walnut department of the Farm Bureau has endeavored to establish a uniform picking wage scale throughout Southern California. In view of the fact that many growers are planning to use shaking towers, paying the men on these towers by the day, and that in this event 25 to 35 per cent of the walnuts might thus be shaken from the trees for the benefit of the pickers, some adjustments should be made in such cases, it was said.

The rates recommended are based on standard barley sacks (22 in. x 36 in.) filled to the top for average picking conditions. It was recognized that this rate cannot be followed by every grower. Some have a light crop on small trees, resulting in scattered picking, while others will have a heavy crop, enabling pickers to easily pick a larger number of sacks per day. The rate represents practically a 14 per cent average increase over the rate named last

KIWANIANS TO INSPECT HOLLY SUGAR FACTORY

Members and wives of Kiwanis club members will make an inspection trip through the Holly Sugar company factory south of Santa Ana next Wednesday night. W. E. Baker, new member of the club, extended an invitation to the Kiwanians at the regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon in James' cafe.

George Cooper, recently of Ontario, was introduced as the newest member of the local club. The introduction was made by Dr. Melbourne Mabey, member of the education committee.

Art Cannon, club pianist, was welcomed back to the club after an absence of several weeks, due to illness. The speaker at the meeting was Dr. C. W. Hoffman, of Los Angeles, who discussed the "dangers from the hideous tentacles of Communism which are reaching into the sacred institutions of America." A subject on which he has spoken at other club meetings in Santa Ana, reports of which previously have been published in The Register.

The speaker, who was scheduled to speak last week but who failed to come then, was introduced by Elmer Steffensen.

The rate for picking walnuts with hulls on for delivery to a huller was not changed from the previous year. In case picking foremen are hired to be responsible for the harvesting crop, it was recommended that the rates be net to pickers.

Massachusetts Knitting Plant Taken Over, Idle Get Wages and Products

This story, second of the series on "production relief," was written by Joseph H. Dyson, Worcester, Mass., newspaper man, after a visit to the scene of the Millville project and a thorough study of its workings. "Production relief" is a new plan that is sweeping the country and is the most important move in the last two years toward solving the unemployment and relief problems.

BY JOSEPH H. DYSON
(Written for NEA Service)
MILLVILLE, Mass., Aug. 23.—Here in southern Massachusetts, not far from the spot where a certain shot was fired 150 years ago that was "heard 'round the world," production relief, one of the most revolutionary moves in the whole recovery program, is getting a test.

In an abandoned lodge hall, on a floor laid out for basketball, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration is sponsoring one of the pioneers in a chain of "relief factories." It pays the wages of workers and distributes free to welfare aid recipients the finished products. The town of Millville is just what its name implies, a mill village, and virtually a "deserted village" before Uncle Sam moved in and started the wheels of turning again.

The ERA knitting mill project here has been in actual operation nearly a month. Jobs have been provided for 44 girls and four men, and the place is in every sense a manufacturing plant, making cloth and turning it into finished garments. The products are athletic shirts for men, and "brother and sister" suits for children. They are being shipped into state headquarters in Boston, and by next month will have reached the 28 commissaries being established by the ERA. There they will be distributed free to relief clients.

NO COMPETITION INVOLVED
The goods are not to come into competition on the regular market at all, says State Administrator Joseph P. Carney. They are to be given to relief recipients who haven't any money to buy such things and aren't getting them from the government.

Here is a town that was as flat as a flounder. It had acres of abandoned factory buildings on which nobody bothered to pay the high tax rate any more. Stores were closed, houses were empty, citizens were moving away. Once it had 5000 population. Now it has 2000. Even the fire department has been abolished, its place taken by a volunteer force. Street lights do not go on at night. But nobody has any money to go anywhere after dark, anyway, so that doesn't matter.

NEARLY EVERYONE IDLE
Except for a dozen or more who worked at the Famb knitting mill, a few who had jobs out of town, and a few farmers who worked for themselves, nobody was working. CWA came along, and helped for a time. Then 85 per cent of the town's working population was again idle.

Something had to be done. Carney did it. He went to Washington personally and sold his idea to Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator. He leased the Famb knitting plant. Then a sewing plant was needed where the knit goods could be made up into garments. One was found in Foresters' Hall, which had been taken over by the town, along with 155 other pieces of property, for unpaid taxes.

It was made to order—a long high, well-lighted room for power sewing machines, space for cutting, stock, and shipping rooms. The town agreed to furnish the building and the power. Then the project was approved.

EVERYTHING PUT TO USE
The hall itself was the picture of desolation. The floor still bore basketball court markings. A piano stood at one corner of the deserted stage. There were a few chairs and tables used for community suppers and an old billiard table.

The billiard and supper tables are now cutting tables. Everything in the building was used, to keep expenses down. It was June 4 that authorization came from Washington. Two days later changes started on the building. Within three weeks the first garment was made. Machinery was installed, and a plant laid out by men who had worked in the town's mills when they were running. They knew their business.

Power sewing machines were few to the town's workers. Two classes of 15 girls each were formed to learn to operate them. They got 50 cents an hour the minute they entered the door. They were to work six hours a day, four days a week, their salaries paid by the relief administration. They were happy to be at work again, enthusiastic at the chance for self-support.

44 GIRLS GIVEN WORK
Forty-four girls are now at work. There will be 80 if the plant goes on two shifts soon, as planned, and 20 pressers and eight cutters. Present production is seven dozen garments an hour, or 168 dozen every working week. If a double shift goes on, this will double and also increase the work at the Famb mill.

The yarn is knitted at the Famb plant, and shipped to Rhode Island to be dyed on bids led by the state ERA purchasing department. The dyed product comes back to Foresters' Hall to be cut, sewed, and pressed for shipment.

The athletic skirts being turned out match for quality and workmanship anything of high grade bought in retail stores. NEXT: This is only a forerunner of a system that is spreading throughout the country with great rapidity. The object is to enable clients to do useful work, keep up their skill and spirits, and make the relief dollar productive. Scores of similar projects begin to dot the country.

A million dollar livestock parade is again on the program for the closing Sunday of the combined Los Angeles, Riverside and Orange County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 15 to 30.

The first group of Millville women and girls who learned to operate power sewing machines, and who are now sewing the garments which they and the rest of Millville's unemployed will wear.

MUSIC TO BE FEATURED AT ARTS FESTIVAL

BY ARVID GILMOUNT

Lovers of music, from pulse quickening quiver to catchy jazz and stirring appeal of liting symphony airs to beautiful arias of the "bel canto" type of operas and imposing symphonies, have a real feast prepared for them by the musical wizards whose names appear on the elaborate program arranged for the third annual Festival of Arts, to be staged at Laguna Beach on Ocean avenue between the dates of August 28 and September 3.

Tuneful melodies, taken from the gypsy camps of the wild Carpathian mountains, and selections from well known classical compositions, as well as vocal offerings through the medium of outstanding artists, will be heard in connection with the presentation of the program.

Vasil Carjenica who will conduct both the European dance orchestra and the Yugoslav Tamara Orchestra, musical organizations connected with Hollywood studios, is himself a famous musician, having been brought up in the musical atmosphere of romantic Bohemia. While in Europe he conducted orchestras at the leading society centers of Vienna, Budapest and Prague. Having been first introduced to motion pictures in the studios of Prague, he came to this country to provide the musical background for "The Merry Widow," as filmed by Eric von Stroheim, and other productions dealing with society life on the continent.

Other artists on the music program are Miss Verna Arvey, well known concert pianist, Signor Waldemar Banke, opera singer; Mlle. Roza Hesseva, lyric soprano, and others. Ensembles include in addition to Carjenica's orchestra, a Bulgarian accordion trio, and a string quartet from the South Coast Symphony orchestra.

Capistrano Teacher Weds at Home Ceremony

Pleasantly established in Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell are receiving congratulations on their marriage, a quiet event which took place Saturday, August 18 in the Buena Park home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson.

Miss Margaret Nelson, daughter of Arni Nelson, prominent resident of Buena Park, and Mr. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell of Arcadia, were married at four o'clock in the afternoon. It seemed especially appropriate that the ceremony should take place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, since the occasion marked their wedding anniversary. The Rev. S. F. Hilgenfeldt of Anaheim, a friend of the family, was officiating minister. Arni Nelson gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a turquoise blue crepe ensemble with white accessories, carrying a bouquet of white gardenias and pink roses.

A charming decorative effect had been achieved in the living and dining rooms, where dahlias provided by Mr. and Mrs. George Trapp of Buena Park had been arranged in colorful bouquets. Especially attractive was the basket of dahlias in front of the fireplace, where the ceremony was read.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table centered with peach and yellow pompon dahlias. Wedding cake topped with a ring and two love birds was cut by the bride, Mrs. J. Gillis of Winnipeg, Can., mother of Mrs. Richard Nelson, presided at the silver coffee service. Ice cream roll with a sherbet center in the form of a bell was served.

Mr. Russell, a graduate of the school of commerce, University of Southern California, is a member of Beta Alpha Psi fraternity. He is an accountant. Mrs. Russell, a graduate of the University of Southern California, is affiliated Beta Gamma Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi. She has been teaching in San Juan Capistrano Union High school, and will continue her duties there with the opening of school in September.

With the serving of refreshments came another delightful surprise of small individual cakes, each with the name of the person for whom it was intended. These were served with fruit salad in dainty baskets fashioned from oranges.

King Rain seemed quite a friendly man. Said he, "Why, lots, whenever I can help people out, I'm glad to. That is my real job, you see."

"I sit away up in the sky and watch things that are passing by. When Nature wants a nice, big drink, she always turns to me."

"I make the pretty flowers grow, and I suppose that you all know, I fill the streams with water when they dry out from the sun."

"I've spent a lot of happy hours just manufacturing fine showers. I always feel much better when a day's good work is done."

Then Dotty said, "Why do you let it thunder? You don't know, I'll bet, how it makes my poor ears ring. And the lightning's also bad."

"When it just rains a little bit, and we all can run out in it, it really is a lot of fun. It makes us all feel glad."

"Ah, don't blame me for thunder, too, nor lightning, either. They are not my fault. Just blame Old Thunder and mean Flasho Lightning, too. They think it's fun to crash and flare and cause disturbance in the air. They do a lot of crazy things that I would never do."

Then King Rain bid the bunch good bye and sailed away up in the sky. "Well," Scouty said, "let's look around and see what we can see."

"We'll have no fun, if we just stand. There must be someone near at hand." And then they started walking. Shortly Duncy shouted, "Geel!"

"Why, what's the matter?" Copy said. And Duncy answered, "Look ahead! Beneath a big tree there's a man. I think he's sleeping sound."

"Come on, you Tinties, we'll find out, and make a nice, new friend, no doubt." The little man began to snore, as they all gathered 'round.

LAGUNA CITY LEVY SET AT $1.97 ON $100

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 23.—The city council set the tax rates for the city and for the Broadway and Sleepy Hollow improvement district at its meeting last night, with the city rate being $1.97 per $100 valuation and the improvement district levy ranging up to $104.68 per $100.

The general tax rate for the entire city was distributed as follows: General fund, $1; fire bonds, .07; payment of A. J. Stead judgment against the city, .20; deficit on Cliff improvement bonds, .10. In addition a levy of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation was charged against property in the newly created Arch Beach sewer district.

Echoes of the last legislature, repeated by the last legislature, were heard with the unusually heavy rates assessed in the Broadway and Sleepy Hollow improvement districts, ranging from $3.35 per $100 assessed valuation to as high as $104.68 in the former and $43.16 in the latter district.

The action of the city fathers was only taken after they had been advised by City Attorney Milburn Harvey that the council had no alternative in the matter and by law was required to make the necessary tax levy. Estimates presented at the meeting revealed that the city must raise $18,198.01 in the Broadway improvement district and $8,986.52 in the Sleepy Hollow district for the fiscal year 1934-35.

Because of protests filed by the Art association, the Community players, and the Humane society as well as by a number of local merchants, final reading of a proposed ordinance, prohibiting distribution of handbills, posters and advertising matter, was postponed to an adjourned meeting set for next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Kenneth Williamson, designer and printer, appearing on behalf of the protesting parties, said that the enforcement of the proposed ordinance would work a hardship on non-profit organizations as well as on local merchants.

Inasmuch as the proposed ordinance would prohibit distribution of all kinds of political campaign literature except by hand-to-hand delivery, or by paying a $10 a day license, exception to the measure was also voiced by the local Sinclair for Governor club. Inquiries revealed the handbill ordinance was suggested by the local chamber of commerce.

On motion of Councilman George Wilson and seconded by Councilman Thomas Cummings, the contract for automobile public liability insurance was awarded to Henry E. McCullough, local insurance broker, at $419.89. A bid submitted by Andrew S. Hall at $414.86 was

EXPECT CROWD AS PLAY OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 23.—Awaited with much interest by local theater fans, including a number of motion picture directors and stars residing here, is the premiere of "A Character Intruder," a brand new production now in rehearsal in New York for presentation on Broadway, to be staged at the Community Play house on Ocean avenue Friday night. Many reservations have been placed for the opening performance and a packed house is expected for Saturday night when the show is repeated.

Interest here in the undertaking is enhanced by the fact that this is the first time the Laguna Beach Community players have been accorded the professional distinction of presenting a play before its appearance on the professional stage, an honor heretofore limited to such organizations as the Pasadena Community players and the Santa Barbara Community players. The premiere here of the play was made possible through an arrangement between Joseph F. Rice, of New York, guest director, in charge of the local production, and Charles Costello, well known New York playwright, author of the play.

The play reveals a playwright's struggle between his love of directing and his new wife.

The male lead is handled by Paul Chamberlain, a young talented actor, until recently connected with the Pasadena Community players. He appeared in "The Merchant of Venice" with George Arliss, and was formerly with the St. Louis Theater Guild and also with the Goodman theater in Chicago. Mrs. Ralph Frost, of Laguna, portrays the unknowingly interfering young wife.

The supporting cast includes some of the colony's best players, including trouper-like Mrs. Marion Munson Forrest, Sumner Crosby, Jack Deane and Harrington Griggs. Others in the cast are Miss Haimar Forrest, Burton Stancliffe, Charles Radford and John Marriner.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Thurman; a sister, Mrs. L. T. Wilsey; brother, Edward Thurman, of Buena Park.

President A. B. Rousseau of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, said that in view of ocean conditions, the chamber could not take the responsibility of sending the small kayakers through the surf. If possible the spectacular race will be run September 3, Labor day. With the receiving yesterday of 36 awards to be given winners in the various events, arrangements for the meet were completed. It was announced today by Harry Welch, secretary of the chamber. The program will last two days, with the kayak scheduled for 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the bay, a Venetian Nights carnival in the bay Saturday night at 8 o'clock and an outdoor dance in Corona Del Mar that night. ### Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief? Why cutting does not remove the cause? Do you know the cause of Piles is internal? ### DARLING FOOL

BEGIN HERE TODAY Monnie O'Dare, young and beautiful, said to Europe with an old friend, Miss Annette Corey. Monnie believes Dan Cardigan, with whom she is in love, is a fool because his parents look down on Monnie who is poor. Dan's parents want him to marry wealthy Sandra Lawrence, pretending to be Monnie's friend, does her best to win Dan, even telling him Monnie is a fool. Why Charles Eustace admires.

Arthur Mackenzie, a rich, middle-aged New Yorker, sails on the same boat as Monnie. He shows her with attentions and one night in London asks her to marry him. Monnie hesitates, promising to give him an answer next morning. While she is trying to make up her mind what to do, she receives a letter from Dan explaining his past neglect and begging her to forgive him. Monnie decides to return home, taking the first boat. Mackenzie, who has been called back to New York on business, is also sailing. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"A year or two ago he and Monnie had a bit of a flirtation. He didn't take it seriously, but she did. Poor girl, she hadn't much experience with beaux, and Dan is such a lamb he didn't know she'd misunderstood."

Charles stood up, not liking any of this. "I'm not at all sure she did," he interrupted. "My impression always has been that the affair was about fifty-fifty."

"Aren't you quite?" trilled Sandra. "It wasn't at all. I know them both, so I have the straight of it."

"But what," demanded Charles with some impatience, "has all this to do with me?" He looked rather ostentatiously at the watch he had been fingering for a moment.

"I thought I'd like you to know how matters stood," the girl told him glibly. "I didn't want you to believe I'd done any poaching. Someone told me you'd said—"

"I never talk about women," Eustace said, a note of harshness coming into his voice. "I leave that to their own sex. You must excuse me now. I'm overdue at my uncle's."

He was fuming as he took his hat and coat from the maid at the front door. The girl was a fool. There were no two ways about it. What did she expect to gain by talking about Monnie to him?

Was she really, as Kay believed, such an enemy to Monnie that she would deliberately try to undermine her with Charles after having stolen Dan from under her nose? Or was it a bit more complex—was Sandra such an egotist that she wished everyone, even Charles Eustace, who knew her so well, to think well of her?

However it was, she was a nasty little cat, and he sincerely disliked her.

He walked off into the autumn night, frowning. Why hadn't he told her exactly what he thought of her? he asked himself. She hated Monnie—that much was plain. How had she dared to speak of her in that tone to him?

Charles acknowledged, with a pang, that Monnie's absence cost him a great deal. He was missing her more than he would have believed possible a year ago. She was so sweet. That was it—so everlastingly sweet and clean and desirable! She made all these other girls with their poses and affectations and meannesses look drab and uninteresting.

Monnie—he admitted it to himself at last—had come to be the love and center of his life. He loved her—and she was in love with another man. There was nothing he could do about it. Unconsciously he groaned to himself. Nothing he could do, he repeated, except to stand by and be her friend if she needed one. He rather thought she would.

TRAFFIC STOPS AS JUVENILE PLAYER COMES TO LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 23.—Efforts on the part of Little Shirley Temple, well known juvenile screen player, to remain unnoticed while she visited friends in the art colony yesterday were of no avail for she had hardly stepped out of the automobile in which she was riding in the business section before she was spotted by a score of young admirers, whose number in a few minutes grew so large as to cause a traffic jam. The popular juvenile player came down to visit Capt. and Mrs. Charles Abrams, 325 Legion street.

WORK STARTED ON PIPE LINE IN BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 23.—The W. T. Welding company at Main and Anacapa streets has been awarded the contract for the construction of the Holly Refining company pipe line from the town lot off field to the refinery at Garfield and Main streets in the old field. Actual construction work started this morning.

The contract was let on a foot-cage basis for the welding work and the ditch work and other excavation work, the Holly Refining company furnishing the pipe and other material.

The pipe line will tap all points in the town lot field covering the field from Twenty-third street to Seventeenth and from Ocean to Palm with extensions down to Twelfth street. It will enable the Holly company to compete with the majors as to transportation costs from wells to refinery and dispense with the cost of trucking oil.

"Such doings!" She was pretending to be scandalized.

"What is it all about?" Charles asked lazily, without any real curiosity.

"She giggled. 'You are a detached person! Haven't you noticed who's among the missing?'"

He looked about him. There were some 30 or more at the dance so it was not easy to tell at a single glance. Besides he was sure several guests had long since withdrawn.

"Couldn't possibly guess," he told her. Then, after a moment, "Oh, I don't see Sandra Lawrence—or your brother."

She smiled again, meaningly. "I see nothing to get excited about in that."

"Oh, don't you?" Geraldine mimicked his bored tone exactly. "I suppose you'd think an engagement wasn't news?"

Charles whistled softly. He hadn't really thought it would come so soon. "Interesting," he drawled, "if true."

Geraldine tossed her head. "Of course it's true," she said with some heat. "He's my brother and I think I ought to know."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly robust and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

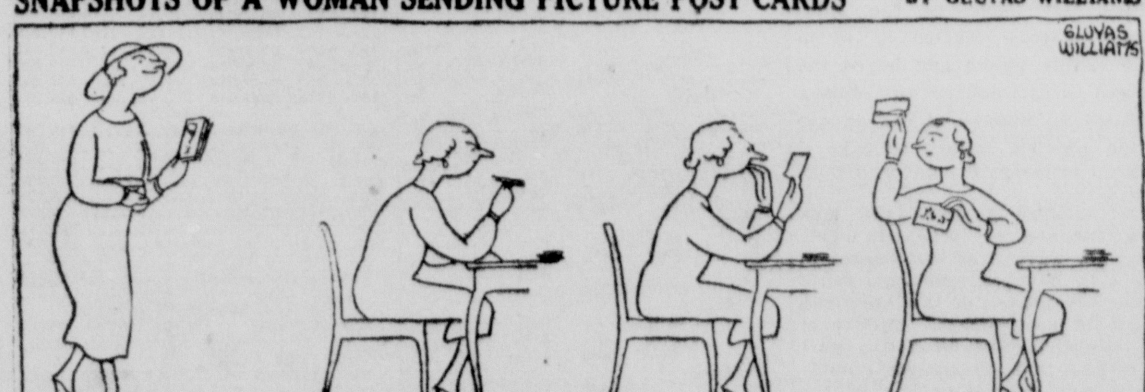

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. You feel sick, your head aches, your stomach is full, your breath is thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your bowels are sluggish and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CALVERT'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

They contain wonderful, natural, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for CALVERT'S Little Liver Pills. Look for the name CALVERT'S Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Local drug stores. O. H. C. M. Co.

GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST HAS SIGNIFICANT FEATURES

The gubernatorial contest in each of the major parties, has been a singular one.

Opening, in the Republican party, with Governor Rolph in command of the political situation, with the very great certainty that ex-governor Young would be the real contender with him, for the nomination, conditions were literally changed by Governor Rolph's death. Immediately Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam, becoming governor, took possession of the political organization of the state, which gave him, overnight, rather a commanding power in the garnering of votes.

While Mr. Merriam has thousands of friends, particularly among the church people, yet his record, upon many forms of legislation relating to power companies and kindred forces, is not such as to make him a strong candidate, but rather a weak one.

Ex-Governor Young, in the estimation of the majority of friends and foes alike, gave to California one of the best business administrations this state ever saw. Mr. Young is honest and capable, sincere, broad in his sympathies and would unquestionably command scores of thousands of wavering votes if he were selected as the nominee of the Republican party.

We believe, further, that of all the candidates who are running for the nomination, Mr. Young is the one for whom there could be the slightest hope of defeating Mr. Merriam in the primaries. Mr. Young has as great claim upon the church and temperance vote as has Mr. Merriam, and, in some respects, in our judgment, to a greater degree.

Those who vote for him can have the satisfaction of knowing that they would have a strong candidate, and be voting for a man who had a chance.

Mr. Haight, is also a candidate on the Republican ticket, and while we believe his qualifications are equal to those of Mr. Young, he will not be the runner-up to Mr. Merriam. A vote cast for him, while helping Mr. Haight's election after the primaries, would not be a factor in placing the strongest possible man on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Haight, as a registered Commonwealth candidate, is bound to be a candidate for election, and if he becomes a formidable figure at all, it will be at that time.

POPULAR WEEKLY DESCRIBES AN OUTSTANDING SPORT

Apologies of the recent hullabaloo concerning the "threat of communism" in Orange county which is being so ardently thrust before the public by the district attorney and his friends in the closing days of the primary election campaign, in an apparent effort to throw public attention from the real issues and a desperate attempt to secure his return to office, a few paragraphs in the leading editorial of the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post seem quite pertinent. They read:

"It is a fairly common human trait to find entertainment and delectation in being horrified.—Even a wax paper mache dragon is better than none at all; The chamber of horrors need not be too real to have the desired effect.

"Thus it is in the field of social, political and economic activity; people may not exactly enjoy being horrified, but they get a certain thrill, a kind of titillation out of it. We all shudder a bit when a speaker or writer suddenly threatens us with revolution, communism, fascism—

"For one thing, these hundred dollar words never fail to produce an effect; the mere use of them seems at first glance to endow the speaker or writer with wisdom. He is rarely asked to specify; he counts on striking his audience dumb with horrendous words.

"Of course dealing up horrors is a quick and easy way of getting one's name before the public. Under such circumstances there is no need to present a careful and reasoned argument. Such a prophet is not held to the ordinary standards of logic or experience or research. He is not asked for details, or for a closely documented case; it is enough that he horrify.

"The American people like to be horrified a little bit, but underneath they take it not at all seriously."

IMPORTANT CONTEST FOR SUPREME COURT POSITION

An election contest which is of great importance in this state will be decided in the primary election, August 28th. This is the contest for position Number 2 of the Supreme Court which is between Judge Ira Thompson, the incumbent, and George Edward Acret, a prominent Los Angeles attorney. Mr. Acret and Judge Thompson are the only two candidates in the nonpartisan race for this position in the California State Supreme Court.

Mr. Acret has been making an intensive campaign against Judge Thompson and has been calling the attention of the voters to Judge Thompson's despotic conduct while sitting as a Superior Court Judge in Imperial county in 1926, at which time Judge Thompson sentenced Editor Norman H. Parks to five days in jail for criticizing one of Judge Thompson's decisions.

Both the San Francisco News and the Hollywood Citizen, highly reputable newspapers, together with many other reputable newspapers, at the time severely criticized Judge Thompson's conduct under editorial titles of "Unfit to be a Judge" and "Jurisprudence dragged in the Mire." The San Francisco

News in its editorial stated that Judge Thompson's conduct could not be permitted to go unchallenged.

This is the first time that Judge Thompson has been obliged to submit to any election contest since his conduct in Imperial Valley and Mr. Acret, in challenging Judge Thompson's conduct at this time appears to be receiving an extensive support from the people.

Mr. Acret in addition to being a prominent and capable lawyer of long experience is a member of the American Legion and during the World War served fourteen months overseas on flying duty. His name will appear under the Judicial Section of the ballot of all parties.

JUDGE SHAW

Judge Hartley Shaw, of Los Angeles, is one of the candidates for the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Shaw has been one of the judges of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county since September, 1923, and is now serving as Presiding Judge of the Appellate Department of that court. During the year 1933 he was Presiding Judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county. He is sixty years of age and has had long experience in the practice of law in California and in judicial positions in Los Angeles county. He is a son of the late Judge Lucien Shaw who served as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and was considered one of the ablest judges who ever occupied a seat on the Supreme bench of this state. Judge Hartley Shaw is recognized as a man of sound judgment and judicial temperament and has a reputation for prodigious industry. We have no hesitancy in commending him for the office of Supreme Court Justice.

Forest Not Park
Oakland Tribune

Not a National Park, as has been stated, but a National Forest, well supplied with recreational facilities, will be the California redwood area to be taken over by the Government. The distinction is one of supervision and policy, but the public will welcome the campsites, home opportunities, fishing and hunting permits as something within the popular idea of a park.

From the Forest Service comes word that the proposed Redwood National Forest will cover 200,000 or more acres and will contain not only virgin timber, but cut-over and grazing lands, recreation areas and the like. It will not be handled as a park but as an economic forest unit. Parts of the forest will be logged under an approved system of selective logging, but will not be skinned clean and broadcast burned as is the common practice today. Grazing areas will be set aside for the use of livestock, experimental forest tracts and demonstration areas will be established, roads and trails and telephone lines built, and an adequate system of fire prevention improvements constructed to guard the valuable forest resources.

Recreation will be an important economic feature of the new Redwood National Forest. Fishing and hunting will be permitted, free public camp grounds established, and lands leased for summer homes, resorts and necessary business enterprises. No timber cutting will be done along main traveled roads or heavily used streams, and virgin forest conditions will be preserved around all highly valuable recreation centers.

Before any purchase is made the State of California must approve the creation of a new National Forest within its boundaries. Such an area would then be protected and administered by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Airship Over Brazil to Map Unknown
Regions
San Bernardino Sun

An airship for exploration service is now being built at Friedrichshafen, Germany, for the special purpose of mapping southern and central Brazil next year. It is hoped that Hugo Eckener, who has so long and so safely guided the Graf Zeppelin in transatlantic service, will be the pilot.

The expedition contemplates three flights, over the states of Amazonas, of Mato Grosso and over a large tract of hitherto unmapped southern Brazil. The explorers expect to travel more than 16,000 miles, learning much that is new not only about topography but about savage, animal and plant life. Scientists say it is not at all improbable that there may be plants hitherto unclassified, tribes never known and animals believed prehistoric, making a stand in the jungles.

The interior of Brazil is a sizeable region. The unknown territory covers as much ground as the New England states plus New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and perhaps Kentucky and Ohio besides.

Mexico Is Attracting Tourist Caterer
Pasadena Star-News

American residents of that part of the United States that once was under the Mexican and Spanish flags, and who value the sentiment and the physical reminders of that historic era, will hope that the tourist invasion of Mexico will not destroy the picturesque characteristics of that country. In any case, it should not be "Americanized," granting that there is ample room for improvement in accommodations, especially in the more primitive regions.

United States hotels and excursion interests are said to be planning a chain of resorts in Mexico, the first venture calling for such hotels in principal cities along the Manzanillo-Mexico City-Acapulco highway.

That such a project is under consideration is indicative of the growing tourist interest in Mexico.

Strong-Minded Woman
New York Times

Former Empress Zita is bound to be a center of speculation and gossip dealing with a Hapsburg restoration. Three empires were shattered by the World War, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Russia, and in the case of the last two the stronger imperial consort was the woman. Zita's influence on the fortunes of her easy-going husband is not to be compared with the fatal role played by Alexandra of Russia, the neurotic disciple of Rasputin. But Zita made herself felt in the war. Her brother, Prince Sixtus of Parma, was the central figure in the sensational 1917 overtures for separate peace between Vienna and Paris. She remains a tragic and impressive figure.

WHAT EVERY MAN THINKS

When lovely woman drives in traffic
And with her car plays hide and seek,
Her smile is gentle and seraphic,
But she has got a wild technique.
She seems to know where she is going,
She has the rules all down by heart,
But there is never any knowing
When she intends to stop or start.

She'll slowly roll along the highway
With half a dozen trucks behind,
Then hurry madly through a byway
If she perceives it so inclined.
In vain the many "slow" stops warn her,
For her, red signals blush unseen,
She'll madly speed around a corner
And stop when traffic lights are green.

When roads are muddy, steep or narrow,
Or wind along a rough terrain,
She'll shoot along them like an arrow—
An arrow that has gone insane.
But when they're wide and smooth and level,
And she could safely put on power,
She listens to some inward devil
And slows to half a mile an hour.

I never was a woman hater—
One girl is worth a dozen men—
But why cannot she indicate her
Intentions, if but now and then?
Beside the fireside she's delightful—
More so than any man alive—
But on the highway she is frightful;
Why can't the creature learn to drive?

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

CHURCH AND SOCIETY

In commenting on Herr Hitler's attempt politically to regiment the churches of Germany, I have called attention to the fact that no modern people has yet solved the problem of keeping church and state separate without keeping religion and politics separate in the sense of underestimating the contribution a vital religion has to make to the national life.

The de facto union of church and state that often exists alongside a de jure separations of church and state is surely no answer to the problem.

To a degree we dislike to admit, in times of calm, the church tends to go subordinate to the forces dominant in the economic order.

The corporate courage of movements that intermittently question the ethics of established economic policies and the individual bravery of scattered prophets who live in scorn of the small safeties of conformity are variant from the rule.

And, to a degree we dislike to admit, in times of crisis, the church tends to go subordinate to the forces dominant in the political order. When war is in the air, for example, and the state barks, the church ordinarily barks and begins lustily to hunt with the pack. When the state drafts its citizens, the church drafts its god, clothes him in khaki and sends him to the front. If the crudity of this sentence smacks of irreverence its irreverence of fact it records.

This too facile surrender of the church to the economic order, in times of calm, and to the political order, in times of crisis, is no answer to the problem of religion in the national life.

As I suggested in my comment on Herr Hitler's attempted creation of a national church, it is necessary that the church, if it is to have productive meanings in the life of the nation, maintain freedom of action without aloofness of interest in the conflicts that center in both the economic order and the state.

BAD TEMPER

Little John lay in his crib and sucked his daily ration of zwiback. When all that remained was a few sticky crumbs his mother appeared with a washrag. As her shadow fell across the crib little John stiffened, clenched his breath, and then, with a roar like that of an angry bull, gave vent to his rage. He kicked and fought and howled and his mother battled valiantly to connect him and the washrag.

Now there was no reason for this temper that any mortal mind could conceive. He had been carefully tended, gently handled. He was clean and apparently comfortable. He did not want to be disturbed. He wanted to lie as he was, sticky crumbs and sticky hands and face. He resented being disturbed in his serene contemplation of a pleasant world.

His mother calmly, (apparently calm, for she was aquiver underneath) finished washing his face and hands, wiped them dry, in spite of his struggles, drew down the shades and left him howling. He continued yelling for about fifteen minutes. For the first few his shouts were terrific and continuous. Then they lessened somewhat in force, and he began to space them as his energy drained. Down, down, down, dropped his voice, until at the end of twenty terrible minutes his cries ceased and he fell asleep.

Meanwhile, his mother was having her troubles. Grandma was indignant. "Why don't you go to that child? What do you mean by allowing him to cry like that? He'll hurt himself and then what will you think about yourself? It's cruel, that's what it is. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. I never let you cry like that. If you don't go and pick him up, I will."

That is why mothers grow old before their time. Struggling with the children is hard enough but when one must struggle with the various grownups who concern themselves with those same children, the burden becomes almost too hard to bear.

All children show temper. The well-trained child soon learns that it is useless, a waste of energy that brings him nothing but silence, isolation and weariness.

The ill-trained ones, those who are picked up, coaxed, soothed and petted into good humor, keep on indulging in tantrums until they become behavior problems that only the vexed child specialist can manage.

Do nothing you can help that will rouse a child's temper. Handle him gently and do not provoke him to anger. Don't tease him. But when he gets into a temper because he must follow routine, because he must consider someone beside himself, ignore him as completely as possible.

Silence, complete quiet, is the best response to a temper tantrum. This is not always possible but one can come as close to it as conditions admit. Children learn to control temper when they discover through experience that it brings them nothing but inconvenience.
